Cuban Revolt Revived At Report Of New Troops And Arms

Report Claims Recruits From United States

Rebel Chieftains Take On New Hope As Two Steamers Land To Aid

REPORTS OF REVOLT STRICTLY CENSORED

Son Of Captured Leader Menocal Said To Have Landed New Strength

By CHARLES G. CANNY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HAVANA, Aug. 18.—Reports that rebel expeditionary forces had landed in Oriente province from the United States stirred Havana citizens to intense excitement today.

News of the landing of rebel reinforcements reached Havana through the strict censorship enforced by the Cuban government and led many to believe that President Machado was not sailing so smoothly as his communiques had indicated.

President Still Away

The president was reported still in Santa Clara province, where it was reported that government forces had lost 180 men in an engagement with rebel troops.

Shortly after the government's announcement that Dr. Aurelio Hevia, reputed successor to General Menocal as leader of the insurrection, had been captured at Colon, rumors began to leak in via the grapevine route that Carlos Hevia, son of the doctor, had landed an expeditionary force on the east coast from two schooners.

These rumors were confirmed today by an unimpeachable source and caused rebel sympathizers, depressed since the arrival of the rebel chiefs, Menocal and Mendieta, in Havana as prisoners Saturday, to take on renewed courage.

Lands at Jibara

The expedition was said to have landed at Jibara, Oriente, from two schooners with seven machine guns and 8,000,000 rounds of ammunition. One of the schooners flew the German flag and the other the Norwegian. Among the rebels landing were said to have been a number of American negroes.

The expedition was believed here to be the same which ran afoul of the United States coast guard off the New Jersey coast two weeks ago.

SPECIAL SESSION MAY NECESSITATE SPECIAL ELECTION

Many Members Of Legislature Candidates For City And County Office

OTHER MEMBERS HAVE EXPIRED

HARRISBURG, Aug. 19.—Decision of Governor Pinchot to call a special session of the legislature may necessitate the fixing of dates for special elections to fill vacancies in the membership of the General Assembly. At the present time there are a number of members who served early this year who are candidates for local office.

Since the legislature adjourned late in May there have been no vacancies in either the Senate or House. Usually between each regular session there are several seats vacated by death.

Four Are Candidates

There are four members of the 1931 House who are candidates for judge in their respective counties. Two of this number stand good chances of being nominated and elected if reports received at the Capitol are accurate.

In addition there are several House members who aspire to county and city offices. There are two of the Allegheny county senators who aspire to the Republican nomination as county commissioner.

Most of the legislators who are candidates for local office were administration supporters during the regular 1931 session. In the event they are successful for local office this year they would resign before the extra session gets under way. To fill these vacancies it would be necessary to hold special elections in the districts.

Filling of vacancies for the special session might give some idea of the public reaction toward the administration. It is possible that in the contests for elections to the special session support or opposition to the administration might be an issue.

WIDOW DIES

Mrs. Belle La Follette, widow of the late Senator "Fightin' Bob" La Follette of Wisconsin, died Tuesday in a Washington hospital after a short illness. Her two sons, Senator Robert M. La Follette, Jr., and Governor Philp of Wisconsin were at her bedside when she died. She was in her seventies.

DEATH COMES IN CAPITAL HOSPITAL

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Funeral arrangements were being completed today for Mrs. Belle Case La Follette, widow of the late Senator Robert Marion La Follette, of Wisconsin. Mrs. La Follette died at Georgetown University hospital late yesterday following an operation for intestinal trouble on Monday. She was 72 years old.

At her bedside were her sons, Senator Robert M. Jr., and Phillip, governor of Wisconsin, and a daughter, Mrs. Ralph G. Sucher. Another daughter, Mrs. George Middleton, was enroute from California.

While never holding or seeking public office, Mrs. La Follette was ever by the side of her renowned husband, and campaigned with him in his political sallies which made him the foremost legislator of his state and one of the strongest individual powers in the nation.

Senator La Follette died June 18, 1925.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Aug. 19.—Francis Sage, 57, took his first bath in 12 years today. But it took a court order to make him do it. And if he hadn't--He'd have gone to jail.

Arraigned before Alderman John F. Wallace for striking Mrs. Clara Whoolery, a neighbor, over the head with a shovel. Sage was told he would be released if he took a bath in the creek.

His brother, Joseph, told the squire that Francis hadn't bathed in a dozen years.

It was the alderman's contention that the brain couldn't function normally if the body was not given the proper cleansing.

Sage's attack on his neighbor was reported to have resulted when Mrs. Wholery refused to cease picking apples off a tree standing in their joint yard.

WILL ROGERS says:

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Aug. 18.—What's all the scandal today? Good deal of talk of congress meeting early on account of the unemployed.

Well, I believe if I was unemployed and hungry I would want a little more substantial help than just the thought of "our boys" being gathered in Washington.

In fact, I believe a man can get just as hungry with them there as he can if they are investigating the Philippines or France or somewhere else, and I am sure Mr. Hoover ain't bringing the lads in just because he has missed 'em so. But congress might do something. They are about due.

Action In Texas May Force Price Of Oil To Climb

Texas And Oklahom Combine To Boost Price Of Crude Oil To $1 Per Barrel

PROCLAMATION IN TEXAS OBEYED

Kansas May Join Southern States In Closing Down All Wells To Force Action

(International News Service)

KILGORE, TEX., Aug. 19.—Sudden cessation of the overflowing oil stream from this rich region in Eastern Texas, which was accomplished without friction by National Guardsmen under orders of Gov. Ross Sterling, appeared today to have been partly successful in raising the price of crude oil.

Reduction of production in Texas combined with the shutdown in Oklahoma brought an offer of 77 cents per barrel from an Oklahoma City Refinery if the wells there would be re-opened. But Gov. W. H. Murray has set $1 a barrel as the price which must be paid for oil in that state.

Kansas May Follow

At Austin, Gov. Sterling received reports that his proclamation had been obeyed quite generally with only a few warnings necessary to operators that delayed checking their wells. No arrests were made.

Probability that Kansas might line up with Oklahoma and Texas in controling oil production was seen when W. H. Lassen, vice president of an independent oil concern, filed a complaint with the Public Service Commission requesting an investigation of production and the execution of a program to regulate waste.

All Wells Down

KILGORE, Tex., Aug. 19.—Governor Ross Sterling's shutdown order in the rich East Texas oil fields had been made 100 per cent effective today and the military forces sent into the field to effect the shutdown settled themselves to maintain it for an indefinite time.

A final examination of the 160,000 acre oil field late yesterday convinced General Jacob Wolters, commander in the martial law zone, that every well was closed down.

Today the troops busied themselves fixing seals on outlet gates, of the 1650 wells so that periodical examinations that will be made until the shutdown order is lifted will be simplified.

Ready To Enforce Witkin Gun Bill Police Chief Says

Horner Believes Firearms Act Will Prove Aid In Suppressing Crime

GIVES OFFICERS CHECK ON WEAPONS

Provisions Of Act Call For Heavy Penalties For Illegal Possession

Although he has not yet received a copy of the Witkin firearms law which becomes effective September 1, Chief of Police Cy Horner believes that it will result in a decrease of crime. Plans to operate under its provisions will be made as soon as a copy of the law is received.

The law provides that any person committing or attempting to commit a crime of violence, when armed with a firearm in violation of the Witkin act, "may, in addition to the punishment provided for the crime, be punished also as provided by this act. We will be prepared to comply with the act."

Heavy Fine

Maximum penalties of $3,000 fine and three years imprisonment are provided for violation of the Witkins act, officially designated as the "Universal Firearms Act". These penalties could be imposed in addition to others for the crime of violence.

Display of firearms in the windows of dealers also is prohibited. Each dealer is to pay an annual license fee of $10 and must furnish records of all sales to sheriffs or police chiefs. It makes imperative that anyone wanting to buy or possess firearms must register with the police or sheriff and receive a permit.

"I have not received a copy of the new act, but I have read newspapers describing provisions of the law, and I believe that it will result in a decrease in crime. It will act as a curb on the man who is starting out to commit a crime on account of the penalties provided."

Check on Sale

The chief said also that the registration provision would prove good, as persons possessed of a temporary suicidal mania would not be

Name Wm. C. Hess Vice President Of K. Of P. Veterans

Charter Member Of Robert Blum Lodge Honored At State Convention

TO NAME OFFICERS SOMETIME TODAY

Hess Awarded Gold Medal Last Year For 50 Years Service In Order

(International News Service)

CARLISLE, Pa., Aug. 19.—Election of officers and choice of a 1932 convention city was the principal business before the grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias of Pennsylvania at the second day of their annual convention here today.

A. B. Hess, of York, grand vice-chancellor of the order, will be automatically advanced to the grand chancellorship and election will be held for less important posts. The Pythian sisters, auxiliary organization, will also elect officers and chose a 1932 convention site today.

Grand chancellor John C. Wilkes, of Sharon, was honored at a banquet at the close of the first official session when the Sharon delegation presented him with a traveling bag in token of apreciation of his services. Augustus Albright, of Carlisle, a Civil war veteran and only surviving charter member of the post here, was presented with a lodge jewel by Vice-chancellor Hess, who was elected president of the Veterans association, composed of members who have been Pythians for 25 years or more.

Other officers of the association named were Harvey Trumbore, Bethlehem, secretary-treasurer; W. C. Hess, New Castle, vice-president; and J. G. Stinmark, Pittsburgh, executive chairman.

The grand lodge parade, in which all delegations of the parent order and auxiliary will take part, will be held tonight.

William C. Hess of this city, a charter member of Robert Blum Lodge No. 466, Knights of Pythias, who was honored at the sessions of the Pennsylvania grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias at Carlisle, Pa. by being elected vice president of the Veterans association, was honored at the session of the grand lodge here last year, by being presented with the fifty-year medal awarded to those members of the order who have spent half a century in the service of the fraternity. Mr. Hess is on of the best known Knights of Pythias in the state. At the present time he is one of the oldest active members of the order in the state, serving Robert Blum lodge as keeper of records and seals, which position, he has held a considerable part of the time in the existence of the lodge.

PINCHOT ASKS HOOVER TO CONVENE SPECIAL SESSION FOR RELIEF

Says' "Present Emergency Is As Vital To People As The World War"

MAKES REPORT ON CONDITIONS

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 19—Gov. Gifford Pinchot today urged President Herbert Hoover to call a special session of congress to provide federal help for the unemployed. Copies of the letter to the president in which Gov. Pinchot outlined his stand were made public here.

The letter to the president was accompanied by a report on conditions as they now exist in Pennsylvania.

"A situation like this, in a state like Pennsylvania, leads many to believe that the present emergency is as vital to the people as the great war," the governor wrote.

The Pennsylvania executive reminded the president that the latter had asked for congressional appropriations "for the belief of the needy in distant parts of the world, and having obtained them, had supervised their expenditures."

Situation Acute

"It would seem to be most appropriate that you should do no less for our own needy here at home" he continued.

The governor's report on conditions in Pennsylvania placed the number of unemployed at more than 900,000 nearly one quarter of the whole working population. He asserted that wages are decreasing, distress in many counties is acute and that many children are suffering from starvation.

In face of the present situation the governor maintained that Pennsylvania is "by no means lying down." He then outlined what the state and its people are doing to relieve the existing conditions. He cited increases in mother's assistance funds by state appropriations, large grants to the hospitals and a road program which is employing 19,000 men.

Is Grave Question

Nevertheless the governor believes that unless the federal government gives direct aid "hundred's of thousands will go hungry next winter."

The governor explained he had "taken the liberty of making this letter public" because "this question is of grave consequence to millions of our people.

The governor's letter to the president was regarded here as a certain indication that the former hopes to keep in the national political spotlight until the Republican national convention next year. In a recent speech at Detroit the governor advocated a federal dole for the unemployed.

Washington, Aug. 19—There will be no special session of congress to deal with federal unemployment or for any other purpose, it was stated at the White House today after receipt had been acknowledged of a letter from Gov. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania requesting the president to call one.

The White House did not indicate when a reply would be sent to Gov. Pinchot.

Gigantic Merger Of Oil Companies Announced Today

Merger Of Three Big Oil Companies Will Total About $600,000,000 Is Report

WELL KNOWN FIRMS ARE INVOLVED

(International News Service)

NEW YORK Aug. 19—An oil merger involving $600,000,000 providing for the absorption of four large companies into one, to be known as the Commonwealth Oil Company, was three-quarters completed today.

Three of the companies—Sinclair Consolidated Oil Company, Prarie Gas and Oil Company and Prarie Pipe Line company—have ratified the merger agreement.

Negotiations were reported still under way for acquirement by the new company of the Tidewater Associated Company.

It was learned that stockholders of Sinclair and Prarie Oil and Gas will receive share for share in the new company in the exchange of stock. Shareholders in Prarie Pipe Line will be given one and fourtenths shares of commonwealth stock for each share.

If Tidewater Associated joins the group, each share of stock in that company will be exchanged for seven-eighths of a share of commonwealth.

While no information could be obtained as to the officers and directors of the merged company, it is understood that Harry Sinclair, head of Sinclair Consolidated, will be active in the new management.

Hungarian Cabinet Resigns En Banc

Long Rule Of Prime Minister Bethlen Ended With Resignation

(International News Service)

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Aug. 19.—The long rule of Count Stephen Bethlen, Hungary's sphinx-like prime minister, seemed at an end today when the cabinet tendered its resignation to Admiral Nicholas De Horthy, the regent.

The resignation was said to be due to financial crisis which followed in the wake of German economic troubles and the French insistence that J. Gombos, minister of war, and Count Klebelsberg, minister of education, be ousted. It was expected here today that Admiral Horthy would call upon Count Julius Karolyi, minister of foreign affairs, to form a new cabinet.

Hamilton Named To Sheriff Post In Philadelphia

William J. Hamilton, Jr., Appointed By Pinchot To Fill Cunningham's Place

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 19.—William J. Hamilton, Jr., of Philadelphia, today was appointed sheriff of Philadelphia county by Gov. Gifford Pinchot.

Hamilton was named to the vacancy caused by the death last week of Sheriff Thomas Cunningham, long-time Republican organization leader in Philadelphia and friend and ally of William S. Vare, organization chieftain.

The new sheriff is 38 years old and is assistant secretary of the Real Estate, Land Title & Trust company of Philadelphia. As a leader of the independent Republican movement in the 21st ward he was active in both Pinchot campaigns last year. He is a World war veteran.

In a statement announcing the appointment the governor termed Hamilton "exactly the type of young Republican to whom the city of Philadelphia should turn to rescue it from the misrule that has made it bankrupt."

The appointment will be effective until next January when the sheriff elected at the fall election will take office.

Report Mines To Be Re-Opened On Open Shop Basis

Mines In Monongahela County Are Planning To Resume Operation

PITTSBURGH COAL OPERATORS SHYING

Mayors Of Many Towns In Tri-State District Meeting In Wheeling

(International News Service)

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 19.—While representatives of 16 mining communities in the Pennsylvania-Ohio-West Virginia area were arriving here for a conference seeking a solution to the bituminous coal problem, it was learned today that leading producers in Monongahela county are planning a resumption of operations on an open shop basis.

Mines controlled by James A. Paisley, Cleveland operator, have been closed for three months. Paisley was reported to have conferred with Sheriff Herbert C. Johnson at Morgantown yesterday. The Riverseam Coal company and the Canyon Coal company also were reported planning to resume.

Mayors of mining towns in the tri-state area tonight were to attempt their own solution of the ills of the industry. A tentative plan on which it is believed the conference will be based is the formation of a new competitive field.

Under this plan, all states of producing centers with the exception of Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio, the Northern Panhandle of West Virginia, Morgantown and Fairmont field in West Virginia and Kentucky, would be eliminated.

Three States

At the present time, the states of Ohio, Illinois and Indiana are included in the competitive field which was created when the industry was at its peak, with lake and tidewater trade contributing heavily to the prosperity.

Sponsors of tonight's conference, a group of tri-state bankers and industrialists, were reported ready to propose that an impartial tribunal, divorced from the industry, be named to list all mines in the field according to production and number of men employed, a preliminary step to the establishment of limitation of production on an equitable basis with production in the entire new field to be based on the potential market.

No Representatives

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 19.—A checkup of leading Pittsburgh coal operators today revealed that none of the operators queried will have representatives at tonight's "mayors' meeting" in Wheeling.

Patrick T. Fagan, district president of the United Mine Workers of America, likewise indicated the union would not be represented, Fagan said:

"We are going to exert all our efforts toward obtaining federal action to aid the coal business. Creation of a federal fuel commission to remedy existing evils would be most acceptable."

Commenting on the failure of stabilization efforts thus far, Fagan remarked dryly:

"Even if Will Rogers and all the cowboy humorists in the country were an attraction, I doubt if you could get operators to agree on a plan."

Troopers Under Secret Orders In Field Maneuvers

Invading Mythical Troops Halted By Cavalrymen In Camp Drill

SHANNON INSPECTS CAMP BY PLANE

(International News Service)

AFIELD WITH THE 52ND CAVALRY, Aug. 19.—Successful in checking an invading column of enemy horse, in securing important rail and water communications and in protecting the flanks of a mythical defending army, Pennsylvania's cavalrymen of the 52nd Cavalry Brigade today set out to complete their field maneuvers under secret orders, closely guarded by division headquarters.

The sabers of the 103rd and 104th Cavalry turned by toward Columbia after securing the crossing of the Susquehanna and capturing an important railhead near Lancaster, and the troops today were to bivouac again near Coppenheffer for an engagement in force with the invading column.

Fighting Unit

Acting as a fighting unit in the field, the troopers marched some 20 miles from their base yesterday, captured and held the railroad point and fought off the mythical invader until supporting troops came up to take over the captured rail line.

Today, the cavalrymen broke camp and began the march back toward the Susquehanna where, it was believed, enemy forces would be engaged in a night battle. Plans for the final day of the four-day maneuver were kept secret by staff headquarters and the troops were keyed up for a successful finale to their tactical demonstration.

Horses and men were standing the field duty in excellent shape officers reported to Brig. Gen. Edward C. Shannon, commander of the brigade.

Camp Inspected

Brig. Gen. Shannon, in a plane piloted by Capt. Albert H. Stackpole, of Harrisburg, commander of the governor's troop of the 104th, flew over the base camp near Copenheffer and inspected the cavalry area. The brigade leader spent more than an hour in the air, inspecting the camp area and the section in which the cavalry maneuvers will be completed.

From a military standpoint, the cavalry maneuvers have been very successful, instructors agreed, and the troopers fulfilled their objective of turning back the enemy horse and securing communication lines for the defending army whose flanks they are covering and whose advance guard the cavalry brigade has preceded and protected.

Lincoln School 50th Anniversary To Be Observed

Former Students Of Famous School Of City Meet Tuesday Evening

Fiftieth anniversary of the opening of Lincoln School as one of the educational centers of the city is to be observed in a fitting manner sometime during the opening week of the coming school term. This was definitely determined on at an enthusiastic meeting of a group of interested former students of the school prior to 1900 at a meeting held last night in the city council chamber.

Some idea of the enthusiasm being developed in the affair was seen at the meeting last night by the presence of five men, who attended school there on the opening day fifty years ago in 1881.

Harry J. Clark was selected unanimously as general chairman of the committee in charge and of the celebration to be held, while Victor Smith was selected as secretary.

On account of the unfavorable weather conditions prevaling about the time the meeting was called for, the attendance was not as large as expected, and it was decided that another meeting of those interested should be held Friday evening of this week. This meeting will be held at eight o'clock in the smaller hall of the Sons of Union Veterans in the city building.

At this time, a definite program for the affair will be determined upon and it will also be determined, if possible, just when the affair shall be held.

All former pupils of the school, who attended prior to 1900, are urged to be present and participate in the planning for this important and interesting occasion.

Mysterious Blaze Kills Chickens And Burns Large Barn

ABOARD SEAPLANE DO-X, Aug. 19.—Maintaining a clock-work schedule to make up for the time lost in Para by replacement of one of her engines, the German seaplane DO-X took off from Paramaribo at 8:35 a. m. today (7:35 a. m. E. D. T.) for Trinidad, the DO-X is flying to New York from Rio de Janeiro in easy stages.

The German air liner came up over the Equator from Belem, Brazil, yesterday to this typically Dutch city, making the 1200-mile flight without difficulty in a little less than seven hours, by far the best time made by us since our start for Rio.

The DO-X crossed the Equator yesterday morning. We passengers celebrated the event fittingly. One, clothed as Aeolus, the wind God, presided over the ceremonies, and flung defiance to Neptune, who, happy from copious drafts of beer, came into the main cabin waving his trident.

We skirted Devil's Island, the French colony, on our way to Paramaribo and could plainly see the inhabitants coming out of their houses to wave at us.

Colored Service Men To Meet On Friday Evening

Matters Of Importance To Be Considered At This Meeting In City Building

Everything points to a fine attendance of the colored ex-service men of the city at a meeting to be held Friday evening at eight o'clock in the city council chamber.

The meeting is being held under the auspices of Colonel Charles Young Post No. 538 American Legion and is for the purpose of reorganizing the efforts of the former service men of the colored race along the lines of closer fellowship and also to arrange, if possible, for club rooms and meeting place for the post and former service men.

It is expected that there will be a representative of the state department of the Legion present and discuss the matter with the colored ex-service men.

Glider Expert Not At Fault

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 19.—Fred A. Pippig, of Paterson, N. J., did not violate any of Pennsylvania's aeronautic laws when he lost control of a glider and crashed into a crowd of spectators at Wyalusing last Sunday, the state aeronautics commission today advised District Attorney William Rosenfield of Bradford county.

Records of the commission show Pippig has a United States Department of Commerce license both for his craft and himself. Under Pennsylvania laws he may fly in the state on 30 days of any year without having a state license.

Pippig is at liberty on bail on charges of aggravated assault and battery preferred by Bradford county authorities.

C. C. COULTHARD RESIGNS PLACE AS CAR CHIEF

as a motorman, assistant superintendent under W. C. Smith and superintendent in succession to Mr. Smith.

"Mr. Moore is also a veteran of the Pennsylvania-Ohio system and for a number of years has been superintendent of the West End Traction Company."

Out of City

Mr. Coulthard was reported out of the city today and it was impossible to ascertain his future plans, although it has been learned that he has received several good offers since presenting his resignation.

"Chris", as he was known to street car men, was popular and has held the confidence of the officials of the city with whom he has by virtue of his office done business as a railway executive.

His many friends will be sorry to hear that he has resigned. Under his direction here the division has progressed and has captured several safety first victories.

Readers Entertain Kiwanians At Noon

Clubmen Hear Selections Given By Talented Butler Young Women

Mrs. Marian Hover Wiggins, of Butler, talented reader, entertained the Kiwanis club members during their luncheon-program in the Elks club today with a group of humorous and more serious numbers. She was assisted by Miss Myrle McGoun, also of Butler.

Mrs. Wiggins, the daughter of Kiwanian and Mrs. Frank A. Hover, this city, recited her selections in a gifted way. She offered "The Path to Home," "The Village Aracle," "Imphm," a group entitled "Dot Entertains," and closed with "Otherisms."

Miss McGoun's contribution was "The Bath Hour."

Guest of the Kiwanians today besides the entertainers included Mrs. Clement D. Parker, wife of the president of the club, and W. I. Mohr, of Tiffin, O., the guest of Alderman L. C. Mantz.

Rich New Yorker Given Summons By Senate Committee

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Edwin C. Jameson, weathy New Yorker, who gave liberally to the anti-Smith Democrats in the 1928 presidential campaign, has been subpoenaed to appear before the senate campaign funds committee on Aug. 27, it was announced today.

The committee has also subpoenaed H. F. Healey, Jameson's secretary. They are the first of 20 witnesses called in the resumption of the inquiry into the activities of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the M. E. church, south.

Jameson will be questioned more closely concerning his contributions of $63,000 to Cannon's anti-Smith Democratic committee. He appeared before the committee before but apparently new facts have developed on which his statement is desired.

Fall Down Stairs Fatal To Banker

YORK, Pa., Aug. 19.—When he tumbled down a flight of stairs at his home today, Isaac Hildebrand, 90 years old, president of the Jefferson National Bank, was killed. Death was caused by a fractured skull. It is believed by the coroner that the aged man was stricken by apoplexy.

Hildebrand was the oldest active bank president in the state. He attended a meeting of the board of directors yesterday.

United Miners Protest Rates

Union Miners In Anthracite District Register Complaint With Commission

(International News Service)

HAZLETON, Pa., Aug. 19.—Officials of the United Mine Workers of America in the tri-district anthracite jurisdiction of Pennsylvania today registered with the Interstate Commerce Commission a protest against granting a 15 per cent increase in freight rates which will affect anthracite coal.

In a telegram to the commerce body, International Secretary-Treasurer Thomas Kennedy and District Presidents John Boyland, Michael Hartneady and Martin Brennan claimed freight rates for anthracite are now too high and are an important factor in the selling price of coal. They made no objection to increased freight rates not affecting anthracite, however.

Just when we were in greatest need of the inspiring aphorism, "Every cloud has a silver lining," the price of silver had to slump.—The Duluth Herald.

Drill Team Picnic

The Daughters of Union Veterans Drill team will have their corn roast at Cascade Park Thursday, August 27, instead of August 20, as previously announced.

BALDWIN BIBLE CLASS HAS ANNUAL PICNIC

If the weather man had just kept the rain away a few hours Tuesday evening it would have been much more pleasant for the 125 members and friends of the Baldwin Bible class of the Highland United Presbyterian, who assembled in the grove at Cascade Park for their annual picnic dinner.

The long tables were arranged under one of the shelters and lovely garden flowers were artistically arranged down the centers and were banked on all sides by tureens of the most deliciously prepared viands that one could think of with the main dish of the supper being luccious baked ham; the dessert consisted of ice cream and a variety of cakes that were most delicious, as the members of the class are noted for their prowess at cake baking.

Preceding the serving of the supper Mrs. Daniel Maddocks, chairman of sports, conducted a series of races and games for the children and many prizes were awarded the winners.

Following supper the long tables were cleared and bingo proved a most interesting diversion and many prizes were presented those whose loud "Bingo" rang out as the corn was placed on the winning numbers.

Special guests included Mrs. George Lipp and children, Mildred, Virginia and Junior of Pittsburgh; Mrs. M. A. Harris of Beaver, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bishop and son Thomas of Cleveland; Miss Jean Robertson, Pittsburgh, Charlottee Confer and Louise McCoy.

The committee on menu and service included Mrs. Albert Batten, Mrs. L. Fehl, Mrs. Milton Pascoe, Mrs. Arthur Kiefer, Mrs. C. B. Sproull and Mrs. H. S. Kison.

REBEKAH CHAPTER PLANS FOR PICNIC

The members of the Rebekah chapter of the First United Presbyterian church are looking forward to their annual picnic event, which will take place Friday at the grove, Cascade Park, with dinner served at 6:30.

The committee requests that table service and bread and butter for each family be furnished, in addition to a well filled basket.

Boozel Reunion

The Boozel family will hold their 50th annual reunion on Saturday, August 20, at the home of S. B. McConnell, East Brook. A chicken dinner will be served at noon.

A large attendance of relatives and friends is expected to be present and celebrate this anniversary reunion. Those assembled will be honored by the presence of Mrs. William Boozel who is in her ninty-first year. She plans to take an active part in the days festivities.

MRS. L. B. JONES HONORED AT PARTY

A delightful event on Tuesday's social calendar occurred last evening at the home of Mrs. E. B. Ray on Hillcrest avenue, when she entertained a group of friends at a party in honor of Mrs. Lilliam B. Jones, the occasion being her birthday anniversary.

Thirty-five guests were present the majority being associates of the New Castle Circle of the P. H. C. No. 5, of which Mrs. Jones is a most active member. They all assembled and greeted Mrs. Jones in a novel manner as she walked into the spacious room that had been beautifully decorated with summer flowers. She being unaware of the fact it was in her honor, was completely surprised.

This event had been planned in the form of a lawn party, but due to the rainy weather, tables were arranged throughout the house, where various games were participated in. "Cootie" formed the main diversion, and at the close of the game Mrs. Jones was awarded the prize for being successful.

At an appropriate hour, a very delicious lunch was served, the menu and table appointments being tastefully carried out in a color scheme of green and white. The hostess had as aides, her daughter Miss Erma Ray, Mrs. M. J. Young, Mrs Hazel Hicks, Mrs. Nora McCann and Mrs. Jack McCann. Preceding this part of the evening program, the guest of honor was presented with a huge umbrella and when hoisted, revealed a large collection of many lovely gifts, which dangled from ribbons of various hues, which were given her in behalf of those assembled there. The presentation speech was made by Harry Millman, and Mrs. Jones responded in her usual appreciative manner.

The main table where the lunch was served was arranged in the dining room and was centered with a large birthday cake, the gift of Mrs. William Back.

GUESTS OF HONOR AT LUNCHEON TUESDAY

A beautifully appointed 1 o'clock luncheon was served at the home of Mrs. Frank Doerr on Croton avenue Tuesday afternoon, when she entertained in honor of her house guests, Mrs. A. H. Stamm of Cleveland, O., and Miss Mollie Morton of Pittsburgh, who will spend the remainder of the week here. As a special guest, the hostess had Mrs. George Gibson.

The dining room table was attractively decorated in tones suggestive of the season and vases of garden flowers were used throughout in the decoration of the rooms Miss Grace Gibson, sister of Mrs. Doerr, assisted with the delicious menu.

The remaining hours were spent informally with chat and music.

Nous A Mon Girls

The Nous A Mon Girls club held their regular meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Adria Wood, Fall street, with Mrs. Bernetta Mike as associate hostess.

Mrs. Katharine McClintock, president, conducted the business session, when plans were made to have a picnic at Etna Springs on Tuesday, September 1, with the husbands and friends as guests.

500 featured the evening and prizes were won by Miss Jessie Harper and Mrs. Irene Gorley.

Mrs. Houston assisted the hostesses in serving an appetizing lunch, which brought the evening to a close.

Returns From San Diego

Miss Rheda Edwards of Garfield avenue has returned home after spending six weeks in San Diego, California, with former residents of this city, Mr. and Mrs. William Motheral, Mrs. Clare Francis and Miss Ruth Francis.

JORDAN REUNION TO TAKE PLACE NEXT WEEK

The descendants of Henry and Elizabeth Jordan will hold their annual reunion at Millburn Grange; Lawrence County, on Wednesday, August 26. All relatives and friends are cordially invited to attend, and bring well filled baskets. Paper for tables, plates and coffee will be furnished.

A program of interesting sports has been arranged by the committee in charge, namely, James C. Clemens, J. L. Fink and Will Graham; those comprising the coffee committee includes Mrs. Frank Shaw, Mrs. James Clemens and Mrs. Frank Brenneman, while the general committee is formed up of Norman Young, Margaret McConnell, Edgar Shaw and C. H. Turner.

The president of this group is Joseph Jordan; vice-president, James Jordan; treasurer, Mrs. Anna Turner; secretary, Mrs. J. L. Fink.

Dinner will be served at noon, followed by the usual entertainment, and business meeting. This event is anticipated to surprass all previous ones in every way.

SIX O'CLOCK DINNER HONORS HOUSE GUESTS

Mrs. C. V. Pyle of Croton avenue proved a pleasing hostess Tuesday evening when she entertained at a beautifully appointed six o'clock dinner in honor of her house guests, Mr. and Mrs. David D. Reed and family, of Brookville; also Mr. and Mrs. S. Ross Morgan and family of Homestead Park, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Allen of Park avenue, and Mrs. T. J. N. Detrich and family of La Porte, Ind., who are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Kitson on Beckford street.

A delicious menu was served at the set hour at a table prettily decorated in pastel tones, where places were marked for 17. A bouquet of select summer flowers formed the attractive centerpiece.

At the conclusion of serving pastimes of various kinds were enjoyed, occupying the remaining hours.

The hostess was assisted by her sister, Mrs. David Reed, and her mother, Mrs. R. M. Rhodes.

McCormick Reunion

The 15th annual reunion of the McCormick family was held recently at Rock Springs Park with approximately 150 relatives and friends being present. Dinner was served at noon, and the following leasure hours were spent in dancing, sports, racing and contests, with prizes being awarded to the winners.

A business session was called, with James Fee, president, presiding. Election of officers occurred as follows: President, James McCormick; vice president, James A. Fee; treasurer, Louise McCormick; secretary, Tom Free, and John McCormick, assistant; social committee, Mrs. Kate Fee, chairman, Mate McCormick of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Edward McCormick, Mrs. Kate McCormick and Pearl McCormick, aides.

Guests were present from Grove City, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, O., Du Bois and New Castle.

It was decided to hold the reunion in 1932 at Rock Springs Park on the third Saturday in August.

Picnic Outing Success

The King's Daughters of the Church of the Nazarene feel well satisfied that their picnic outing held Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Smith of the Fording road was indeed a complete success in every way.

This event, which was a special occasion, was well attended. An appetizing dinner was served at the selected hour by those in charge. Swimming and informal pastimes were in order during the balance of the afternoon.

Special guests present included Miss Rose Rice, Virginia Smith, W. A. Rice, Mrs. O. E. Smith, Olive Hay and Mrs. W. W. Wall.

AUXILIARY CORN ROAST FINE SUCCESS

Members of the Daniel Leasure Auxiliary added another social success on their summer calendar Tuesday evening, when they entertained members and their families at a corn roast.

A large number were present and participated in this event, and a tasty menu was served to approximately thirty guests. Bingo was later featured, with novel prizes being awarded to those successful.

Before departing for home, a business meeting was called, and committees were appointed for the North Western Council meeting which will be held on Sunday, August 30.

Those comprising the kitchen committee includes, Mrs. Mary Davies, chairman, Mrs. Violet Hanselman, Mrs. Fred Hurlebous and Mrs. Grace Shooks; reception committee includes, Mrs. Elsie Lach, Mrs. Nancy Van Horn, Mrs. Ethel Scott and Mrs. Mary Ousler.

BRIDGE CLUB GUESTS AT ELLWOOD TUESDAY

Associates of the N. E. W. Bridge Club were entertained at the home of Mrs. Edgar Christley of Ellwood City on Tuesday afternoon. Cards formed the main diversion, bridge being selected, and at the conclusion of play, lovely prizes were given to Mrs. Bessie Pitzer and Mrs. George Nicklas for honors.

After the serving of a dainty collation by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Stephen Kuel, also of Ellwood City, the guests departed for home. The tables were prettily arranged in tones of pink and white, and bouquets of summer flowers were used in profusion in the decorations also.

In four weeks, the club will be guests at the home of Mrs. Charles Coates of Milton street, this city.

Birthday Honored

The Ira McConahy home, near Wampum, was the scene of much merrymaking when a group of girls gathered together to celebrate the 18th birthday anniversary of Miss Virginia McConahy.

The girls enjoyed a hike down and at 12 o'clock a delicious chicken dinner was served. The afternoon was enjoyably spent with various activities and chat.

Those included in the party were the Misses Mary Denny, Frances Reno, Margaret and Anna Gierling, Martha Swisher, Jean George, Gladys Houk and the honor guest, who was the recipient of many lovely and useful gifts.

The crowd will next be entertained at a corn and wiener roast at the home of Miss Martha Swisher, Bryson Mill road.

Patterson Reunion.

The annual reunion of the Patterson families was held at Millburn grange hall, Mercer county, on Tuesday, with a hundred being present. Dinner was served at 1 o'clock at tables nicely decorated with garden flowers.

Following a period of swimming, horse shoe pitching and other sports a business meeting was called and election of officers occurred. Those holding office include Smith Patterson, president; John Moore, vice-president; Mrs. Frank Patterson, secretary; Robert Patterson, treasurer.

In 1932 the reunion will be held at the same place on the third Tuesday in August.

Silver Kraft Club

Mr. and Mrs. Carl McCreary, Martin street, received miembers of the Silver Kraft Club in their home Tuesday evening for the regular bi-weekly session.

Three tables of cards were in play during the evening hours and an informal air of sociability attended the event.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. McCreary were special guests.

The small tables were daintily appointed in summer flowers at the conclusion of play and Mrs. T. E. McCleary and Katharine McCleary assisted the hostess in serving refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Thompson, Croton avenue, will be hosts to the club on September 1.

Livingstone Society

The Livingstone Missionary Society of Central Christian church met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Glenn Doerr, Franklin avenue, with Mrs. Edith Redman acting as president.

Eight members and five visitors were present and a splendid missionary program was given with Mrs. Redman giving a paper.

Routine business took up the balance of the business period after which a social time was enjoyed and the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Mrs. I. Davis, Harrison street, will receive the society members in her home on September 8.

T. N. T. Club

A delicious tureen dinner featured the meeting of the T. N. T. Club members Tuesday afternoon when they assembled in the grove at Cascade Park. Tables were nicely decorated in the seasons tones, and places marked for eleven guests, including Miss Sallie Lou Kirk, who was a visitor on this occasion. The park amusements and swimming furnished entertainment during the balance of the afternoon.

In two weeks, the members will meet at the park for another tureen dinner.

Wesley Church Picnic

W. E. Flannery, pastor of the Wesley Methodist church, announces that everything is in readiness for the Sabbath School picnic of the church, which will be held on Thursday afternoon and evening at the Matthews Home, 705 Harbor street.

Dinner is scheduled for 6 o'clock and a most sumptuous menu will be the result of the committee planning the affair.

Mabel Ryan Class

The Mabel Ryan class of the Gospel Tabernacle met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Drish, East Main street, with Mrs. John Wink in the president's chair.

A sick committee was appointed, Mrs. William Patton and Mrs. C. R. Newton.

September 15 the class will meet again with Mrs. William Mackenzie, Lutton street.

LOCAL FOLKS ATTEND SHRINE EVENT TUESDAY

The Bethlehem Shrine, No. 9, W. S. of J., held one of the most successful events ever undertaken Tuesday, when they assembled with their families for their annual picnic outing at Pioneer Pavilion in Mill Creek Park, Youngstown, O., with over three hundred participating.

Mrs. Robert Crowe, worthy high priestess, and Mrs. Merritt Cornell, the latter who was appointed general chairman for the outing, together with their aides, are due all credit for the complete success of the affair.

Games, contests and stunts of a wide variety formed entertainment during the early afternoon hours, and appropriate prizes were presented to the winners at the conclusion of the program. Due to the unpleasant weather conditions, dinner was served in the pavilion in relays from 4:30 o'clock until 7 o'clock. A most delicious menu was served the guests by the committee in charge.

During the evening, a program especially arranged comprising a group of young folks who gave some novel tap dances, and vocal solos and duets was in progress.

This chronicled the close of a most enjoyable day.

Among the New Castle folks who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lindsay and daughter Claire Mae of County Line street, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Halley, Park avenue, Elmer O'Neill, Winter avenue, William Halley, Park avenue, and Phil Dixon, East Washington street.

LAWN CARD PARTY EVENT OF FRIDAY

A lawn party will be given Friday, August 21, by Mrs. E. Marguerite Kiser at the Floyd Cotton home on the Frew Mill road which is expected to draw a large crowd.

All Martha Shrine and Eastern Star members are cordially invited to attend. The afternoon hours will be from 1:30 to 4 o'clock, and will be occupied with bridge, bingo and 500 as well as swimming, an added feature.

Cars will meet any members desiring to attend, at the Y. W. C. A. promptly at 1:30 o'clock. Light refreshments will be served.

Relief Corps Picnic

The rain of Tuesday was rather detrimental to the crowds who turned out for the picnic in Cascade Park, but among those who braved the rain were forty five members of the Women's Relief Corps.

A delicious tureen dinner was served in one of the sheltered dining halls and inasmuch as the rain continued to pour down, the program of sports had to be dispensed with, but an informal time of sociability filled the after dinner hours.

Mrs. Margaret Hammond acted as general chairman of arrangements.

G. A. R. Ladies Meet

Members of the Ladies of the G. A. R. met in the City building Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Matthew Tripp presiding.

Routine business was transacted and plans were made for some of the members to attend the anniversary dinner at the G. A. R. Home at Hawkins Station, Pittsburgh on Thursday.

September 1 will mark the date of the next meeting.

Entertains At Dinner

As a courtesy to Mrs. J. M. Wilkison of Windsor, Can., who is visiting with relatives in the city, Mrs. Mary A. Dart, East Washington street, delightfully entertained a number of relatives for dinner in her home Tuesday evening.

The table was beautifully centered with a vase of summer flowers and a delicious menu was served. The evening hours were spent informally in conversation.

Joint Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Klaus Nelson, Neshannock boulevard and Mrs. K. V. Nelson will be hosts to the Ladies' Aid Society and the Brotherhood of the Zion Lutheran church Friday evening.

The meeting will be at the Nelson home on Neshannock avenue.

INTERNATIONAL SUSPICIONS

AMERICANS can laugh at the Japs for making a mountain out of a mole hill, but, if the situation were reversed and Herndon and Pangborn had been two Japanese fliers caught photographing American fortifications, there are sections of the United States where quite as much noise would have been made over the incident as has been made in Japan.

The two American aces are guilty of error in judgment if they are guilty of anything. Their first mistake was in hovering over armed fortifications in a foreign land to which they had not been legally admitted, and their second was in photographing those fortifications. They may or may not have taken the pictures knowing them to be rare, but it is quite certain that they would never have found their way into military channels for military uses.

Setting the situation on Pacific coast soil and correspondingly reversing the nationality of the personnel provides an opportunity for fairer judgment of the Japanese proceedings. Much would have been heard of the "Yellow Peril" from the jingoes who see in every oriental act and word an aggressive move against the United States. Would there be any suspicions of Japanese plotting or any show of racial prejudice against these friends across the Pacific, who, according to diligent propaganda, are supposed to be jealous, if not actually enemies? As much as there was in Japan, probably.

Nations and people must be narrowly suspicious to attach such significance to harmless gestures, but, because they are petty and quick to suspect evil, it behooves all to avoid arousing these unhappy passions.

WHEAT FOR CHINESE

Surplus wheat in the hands of the federal farm board has found a market in the drought areas of China, where, it is said, 10,000,000 persons face starvation unless relief is forthcoming. The Chinese Famine Relief, U. S. A., is negotiating, in behalf of the Chinese government, for the purchase of the grain on easy terms.

It is difficult to see how the United States can reject a fair offer if rejection means starvation for millions of human beings, but it is easy to understand why it has not become excited over the plan as a means of helping American wheat growers. No matter where it dumps its holdings wheat prices cannot react favorably, for the depressing agent this year is not last year's surplus but this year's unprecedented bumper crop. The Chinese cannot eat enough wheat to help Kansas, where the price is just as low as the crop is heavy, nor can the farm board afford to sell so low as to force prices further down.

Apparently the Chinese need is terribly real and urgent and John Earl Baker, advisor to the Chinese ministry of railways, denies that distribution would be impossible due to civil war and lack of transportation facilities. So the only obstacle to shipping the board's holdings to the Orient seems to be the question of authority, which it surely has.

Sale of surplus wheat to a famine-ridden country certainly cannot be construed as placing the government in the position of being more concerned with the woes of another people than with the unhappiness of its own unemployed.

DEFENDING A PROFESSOR

Last spring the trustees of Ohio State University dismissed from the faculty Herbert A. Miller, professor of sociology, for alleged radicalism on social and racial questions and because a speech made by him in Bombay, India, had "incited Hindus to civil disobedience." The case attracted so much public interest that the American Association of University Professors was drawn into the controversy. Its investigating committee has just made its report.

As was expected by the informed and unbiased, the association, whose conservatism none will dispute, found Professor Miller's remarks entirely harmless and a legitimate expression of opinion and the charges of radicalism wholly unfounded. Its verdict was that "personal animus" on the part of one or two trustees was responsible for the shameful incident.

There is far more to this case than merely the fact that an educator was sent job-hunting by some misguided trustees. Free speech, sound public policy, long established university ideals and good educational practices are at stake.

Such questions are to be decided by what is best for education. Will education benefit from trustee censorship of faculty teachings and opinions? That could be answered in the affirmative were all trustees better educators than the teachers under them. Unfortunately, many college and university trusteeships are honorariums rather than recognitions of great learning.

That Strange Affliction—Love
You Wanted Money
You've Decided on Love

By MARSHALL MASLIN

Bold lad! presumptuous lad, you never planned to fall in love with Her. Oh, no, indeed!

You had someone else in mind, another pattern of the sex in your heart. She was to be tall and dark and proudly handsome, the one that you intended. She was to love you madly, and you were to love her just enough—enough to hide the calloused fact that you'd found it easier to fall in love with her because her Pa had Pride and Place and Money.

You thought it would be easy. No trick at all to fall in love with a lass whose Pa Had Money. You had no illusions about life. Not you, you wise young fellow. You knew too much about Poverty and what it does to people—how it hardens them and kills their spirtis and gnaws at love and banishes happiness from human hearts. You knew all about that and You were going to Marry Money. Of course you'd love the girl, but that wouldn't be difficult. It would be easier to love her if she had a little coin. So that's what you fully intended to do—to Marry Well—and be on Easy Street—and never have to worry all the rest of your life.

But look at you now, and who's that Laughing Chatterbox who clings to your arm and looks up at you with the crinkle in her eyes and the sweetness on her lips. That gay and tender baggage?

She's the girl you're going to marry—next Tuesday at 10 o'clock!

Has she a penny to her name? Not a cent!

Has she a rich Father, a rich Mother, or is there even one fond bachelor uncle, rolling in wealth, visible anywhere on the horizon? Not one, not a chance . . . nor even a crabby, soft-hearted old maid aunt.

Then how did it happen you are marrying HER instead of that Heiress you had so long in mind?

You love her? But that's impossible—she hasn't a CENT!

She's sweet and generous and gay and brave and loyal and the dearest thing on earth? What nonsense—she hasn't a CENT!

You've changed your mind and decided that True Love is far more important than Money—because you can earn the money, but you could earn or even deserve the love that has come to you and this lass named Jane?

What a hicky idiot you are, Bold Lad! What a wise idiot, indeed! What a fortunate fool to see so clearly that your brain counseled Folly and your heart spoke Truth! . . . Nobody's looking, put your arm around her and give her a Hug! She's got more sense in one pink ear than you have in all your body SHE never even THOUGHT of marrying money!

NIGHT SCENE

Last night the moon a silver ribbon threw
Across the placid bosom of the lake,
A lovlier scarf than human hands can make.
Of silk long ages old, yet fresh and new,
And as I sat enchanced by the view,
The fancy came: though nations rise and break,
And change its toll of men and things will take
This is the self-same moon that Adam knew.

What made earth lovely in the days of old
Remains with us to make it lovely still.
In centuries to come some watcher will
This self-same silver ribbon here behold
And marvel just as I that moon and lake
Continue as they are for beauty's sake.

That they say that New Yorkers are the most cosmopolitan. And so are bedbugs.

That as soon as the foundation is laid for a New York apartment house, they erect a booth and begin renting apartments, sight unseen.

That they rent them with more promises than a young fellow makes in proposing marriage.

That everything is on the house, including sign-boards, taxes, leases, mortgages and the water—if you are thirsty.

That as consolation for endurance, the renting agent gives you a month of free rent for sticking it out for a year.

That you don't need to have a radio. You can open any window in the apartment and get a different program from the neighboring apartments on all sides.

That if you want children you don't need to raise any. You can borrow the neighbors—they all have more than enough.

That some apartment houses won't allow tenants with children. Tenants with dogs are cordially invited.

That we are getting back to prehistoric times when animals come first.

That elevator operators in apartment houses get paid in a dark corner and haven't much pay when they examine it in daylight.

Once upon a time (and this is no fable) two men operated a newspaper in a small city, equal partners, sharing the editorial and business office work and dividing the profits after a staff of six persons had been paid off. One partner was a pious individual, the other rather loose in his habits and talk. One day, in the course of the routine, the men quarreled over a trifle, the garrulous one telling his partner to go leap into the w. k. f'ry pit. "For that I shall never speak to you again," the pious one replied, and for more than 20 years these strange partners worked side by side without uttering one word to each other. When it was necessary to communicate they wrote letters, or conveyed messages through third parties. A shop talker who long knew of the silly situation writes that the silent combination is now broken, the partners having sold out to a newcomer. The price was about double what the paper was worth, proving, I suppose, that silence is golden.

MACHINE AND MAN
—Anonymous.

The factory engine wouldn't start
And so they took the thing apart,
To search for flaws.
They took it down from top to base;
They looked at flange and gear and case
To find the cause.
"Something is broken," they declared,
"And what it is must be repaired."

Near by a drowsy workman stood,
And someone muttered: "He's no good!
Just let him go!"
They didn't take the man apart,
Or think to search his mind and heart,
The cause to know.
Nobody thought to ask him why
There was no luster in his eye.

But had they looked into the gloom
Of what he called a sitting-room,
Or searched his life,
They would have found a woman frail,
Tubercular, and drawn and pale,
Who was his wife.
And then they might have understood
Why that man seemed to be no good.

When engines in a factory stop
We search the things from base to top;
But when man breaks,
'Tis very seldom that we pause
To search his life to find the cause
Of his mistakes.
Yet we might mend him could we find
The thing that's preying on his mind.

MORE SWIMMING POOL
Aug. 15th, 1931.

Mr. Fred Rentz,
The News Co.
New Castle, Pa.
Dear Sir:

A recent letter from a couple "Old Timers" in New Wilmington regarding swimming pools, published in The News for some unknown reason, both amused and greatly disgusted me.

They speak of the terrible cost. Anyone that can look upon these healthy little bodies with a clean mind would know that only the doctors need worry about that.

As to the waste of time, I wonder which is the greater waste, to be inside the pool indulging in the cleanest and most healthful sport known, or sitting outside in the shadows night after night peering longingly through the fence.

Another point they seem to need enlightenment on is, that a swimming pool is not a place for the public to take a bath in, if they were dirty they would not be allowed to enter the pool at all. Now a days, in addition to swimming, many persons take a bath every day, instead of once a week in a filthy old wash tub in the kitchen where the next meal is to be prepared. Of course there was some excuse for the old timers, before bath tubs were invented.

Certainly the children should thank the councilmen for providing them with a clean well lighted pool to enjoy a swim and cool themselves on hot summer days, in perfect safety, under the care of competent guards, instead of the dark, dangerous hole along the creek that she favors, she should have taken a peek at some of them sometime. I am for more sanitary swimming pools and clean minded swimmers and in conclusion would say that this is an age of progress and I am sorry that these old ladies couldn't get in the swim.

I met a stranger yesterday—an important fellow—and learned a lot of things, as I usually do when a stranger appears. I learn more, I suspect, than most reporters do, for I have a peculiar advantage. Strangers—especially important ones—are slow to warm up and spill the works when they meet a man who looks as though he might be important, also. They regard him as a kind of competitor. They wish to make a good impression. And so they pose and strut, or speak formally with a nice regard for p's and q's, being a wee bit afraid. That's the way they would treat me if I had the mouth and nose of a strong he-man and the flashing, arrogant eye of an important citizen. But I look so insignificant harmless and simple that they always unbend, as a nice man does in speaking to a child, and begin to talk down to me as from a great height. You've no idea how much a big man will tell you about himself and his bigness if you look awed and ask a naive question or two. It's lots of fun.

Naval Parity As Objective Has Only Limited Support

Announcement By Head Of Department Debated In Light Of Demand For Economy And Efforts To Induce World To Curtail Armament

While the country is willing to entertain the thought of naval parity and recognizes the validity of the treaty requirements in armament strength, the statement by Secretary Adams as to future plans, calling for a navy on a par with that of Great Britain, is subjected to some criticism. Opponents of the idea point to the national deficit, to the administration's demand for economy, and to the efforts that are being made in the direction of world reduction of fighting equipment.

"No doubt most informed, thoughtful Americans, seeing that this continues to be an armed world and that America persists in holding aloof from the League and the World Court," according to the CHATTANOOGA TIMES, "will be inclined to approve this somewhat aggressive naval policy. But its announcement is, nevertheless, somewhat surprising, in view of President Hoover's recent declarations on the subject of armaments and the fact that a general armament-reduction conference is scheduled for next February." The CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, however, recognizes that "the citizens of this country, as well as the naval authorities, have reason to feel keen anxiety lest the navy be permitted to deteriorate much below the line of safety." The Daily News, nevertheless, feels that "if the economic depression continues, it is not unlikely that work will be slowed down" on naval building.

"If the disarmament conference is such a success as Mr. Hoover and Secretary Stimson are determined to make it," says the NEWARK EVENING NEWS, "there may never be need to carry out this program." That paper asks: "Must the Hoover cabinet drift as near to the rocks as Germany and Britain did, before it learns its lesson?" The DULUTH HERALD offers a different interpretation, with the comment: "This announcement is only a statement of the policy of the Navy Department, that is to say, a recitation of its hopes. Congress in the end, will decide the issue, and Congress will not build a vast navy unless it believes that the people want it."

Referring to the utterance as a "naval publicity offensive," the BALTIMORE SUN remarks: "Expressed another way, it is a dedication to the job of getting out of the next Congress all the allowances for new naval construction that continues and clever effort can induce a reluctant Administration and a Congress faced with a billion-dollar deficit to sanction." The WORCESTER TELEGRAM thinks that "Congress may not feel the obligation to provide the money," and contends that "there is no such thing as an absolute parity," for "construction itself would give us a handicap, since most of our ships would be built in the future, taking advantage of new theories and developments."

Emphasis upon aircraft policy and upon the fact that "greater attention than heretofore was given to the function of supporting American commerce" is placed by the DAVENPORT DEMOCRAT, with the further declaration: "No radical departures are to be observed in the administration's policies as outlined. By some they may be regarded as a note of warning that we must maintain our naval strength in proportion to the strongest of the other nations, but even so, it is no more than it should be. Preparedness is one of the strongest arguments against war. It prevents, rather than encourages conflicts between nations. The United States must not neglect it."

"The United States has never been militaristic either in fact or desire," says the DANBURY EVENING NEWS. "But it would be mere common sense to have a navy as large as our formal agreements as to parity with Britain permits us to build." The NEW LONDON DAY points to the attention given to an air program, which is preponderant in the naval plan, and that paper finds England and Japan going ahead with their programs. It offers the advice: "It is recalled that the 'little navy' men in Congress have been crying for years that the service must recognize the air more fully. Well, here is their chance."

"We need to head a movement for smaller navies, not for bigger ones," maintains the DES MOINES TRIBUNE-CAPITAL, while the LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL states: "The enactment of the program, it is declared, would give employment to thousands of men and every penny would go to industry, a large part in wages to skilled mechanics and other workers in the shipbuilding and ordnance trades. But why unnecessary expenditure at a time when economy is imperative? Why excessive increase in armament when, according to President Hoover, armament is the chief cause of the world's woes today? The very limited effect on unemployment would do but little good, and industry generally would not be benefited."

"How much longer," asks the RICHMOND NEWS LEADER, "are the American people going to be dupes of their own unfounded fears? When will they cease listening to the apostles of hate who pose as patriots? How soon will they be willing to trust something to isolation, something to amity, something to international justice? If the richest nation sets the pace in armament, whose will be the responsibility for war if armament multiplies suspicions and suspicions lead, as they always lead, to another war, a more dreadful war?"

"But," protested the director, "this lion won't hurt you. This lion was brought up on milk."

"So was Ah brung up on milk" wailed the darkie, "but Ah eats meat now."

VARIETY, PLEASE

Change the family routine occasionally.

Parents can vary the every day programs and children should be afforded new experience and new scenes.

Many a martial wreck is due to the unvarying monotony of living.

Children become restless, parents dissatisfied and irritable when day after day is the same.

Wives complain that men want to go on hunting and fishing trips.

Husbands complain because the wife wants to visit relatives or friends in a distant city.

Parents often object when children want to go to summer camps and have those of their own age as companions.

It is the desire for change and variety and, if possible, should be understood and gratified before it becomes and obsession.

Often members of one family stick too closely together—too little individual freedom till all are bored with the humdrum of life.

Don't let your family get the drab outlook.

Sometimes it is one member of the family that bears the brunt of monotony but whether it is one or all that hew to the line of routine, it is not wise in the long run.

Postpone Hearing Of Two Pagleys

The hearing on the arson and conspiracy charges against Dominick and Henry Pagley, scheduled to be held before Alderman O. H. P. Green this afternoon, has been postponed until Monday at 4 p. m. due to the absence of the defendants' attorney who is now in Harrisburg, District Attorney Powers said today.

The Pagleys are being held in bail of $2,000 each by county and state authorities as an aftermath to the mysterious explosion in the Highland avenue extension home of Dominick Pagley, on last Thursday when Tony Spagnola, 42, of Rochester, Pa., was burned to death.

Dominick and his uncle, Henry Pagley, both residents on the Highland avenue extension property were arrested shortly after a coroner's jury summoned by Coroner Caldwell had recommended further investigation into the mysterious death of Spagnola.

The Pagleys were released after they each posted their bond before Mayor William H. Gillespie.

Salvation Army Plans To Care For Needy Here

Clothing And Shoes For Children Are The Special Need At Present Time

That the Salvation Army is prepared to carry on a special work during the coming winter, and is planning to do so, was revealed Tuesday, when Officer Ensign B. Kirkman in charge of the Men's Social Institution of the Army in Youngstown, was in the city, and held a conference with Ensign V. Thomsen, the officer in charge of the work of the army in this city.

Ensign Kirkman stated that clothing, shoes, and wearing apparels of all kinds, especially those for children, were needed very much at the present time, and hoped that the public would respond generously to meet this need.

All clothing, shoes and other articles which in the past have been turned over to Ensign V. Thomsen, officer in charge of the local work, for distribution among the poor and needy of New Castle, will continue to be left for distribution here, Ensign Kirkman stated. This statement was made by Ensign Kirkman in reply to the rumor that clothing was being taken to Youngstown and being sold. The drivers of the truck collecting here are under strict instructions to leave all the clothing, shoes, etc., with Ensigne Thomsen and to be distributed at his discretion.

Ensign Kirkman also stated that he had several New Castle men now staying in the Youngstown Institution and receiving the benefit of its facilities.

Training Camp Plans Complete

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Aug. 19.—Graduate Manager A. A. MacDonald announced yesterday that plans are complete for the opening of the Westminster College football training camp on September 1. John D. Lawther, director of athletics and head coach of football, has been in touch with all old members of the squad as well with a number of likely looking freshmen, and all men will report to him August 31.

Men will be quartered in fraternity houses about the town, but will eat at Robert Audley Browne hall, freshman men's dormitory. S. D. Palmer chef of the Browne hall cafeteria, will have charge of preparing the food for the training table.

In all probablity, there will be 50 men in the training camp, the largest number ever to be called out to a Titan grid camp. Of this number, 20 are lettermen or substitutes from last year, and 30 are first-year men.

LOOKING BACK

IN NEW CASTLE

There are many people residing in in the city who can remember political campaigns of past years especially in years which presidential elections took place, in which there was great enthusiasm and during which parades were one of the methods of carrying on for the various major parties. In fact there are those in the city who had an active part in some of these demonstrations. But away back in 1857, which probably none remember, there was a political demonstration by the Republicans that doubled the population of the city at that time, while it was in progress. This great occasion was the 9th of October, 1857. It is said to have been the greatest affair of the kind ever held here up until that time and probably held the record for many years after that. It is reported that on that occasion there actually took part in the procession, which was a part of the demonstration, a total of 3,154 persons 938 horses, 68 cattle, 93 horsemen 454 vehicles and seven bands. There were 1,834 flags and banners carried in the parade. It is a question as to whether today, that great group of persons and vehicles could be gathered together in a political demonstration.

Enlarge Secondary Road Near Mercer

MERCER, Aug. 19.—Seven miles of ash and slag highway are being added to the 200 miles of the secondary road already built states Commissioner Harry Hunter in charge of road building today. The construction program noted is the smallest in ten years and is due to the change made by the highway department under the provisions of the Pinchot road program.

The state will no longer assist township in road construction. Money for this purpose now is spent on the Pinchot program. The seven miles noted are being built by the county and township. The county will spend up to $1500 a mile depending on the type of road.

Four miles of the total are being built in Lake township, two in Hickory and one in Cool Spring.

Cattle Show Will Draw 4-H Clubbers

Three Corn Clubs Will Send Thirty-Five Boys In Connection With Show

GROVE CITY, Aug. 19.—Thirty-five boys of the Four-H clubs of Mercer county will be here in camp August 26-27-28. The camp is held in connection with the annual cattle show August 27-28. The boys are recruited from the three corn clubs at Transfer, Hickory and Fredonia with 60 members and the five calf clubs of the county with the same membership.

C. P. Lang of State College, a worker in the club bureau of the state will be here to assist Farm Agent Harold Waha in the instruction of the campers.

The 150 expected head of pure bred cattle that will be shown makes it possible to hold interesting cattle judging contests. Waha who is in charge of the registering of the cattle urges on owners the sending in at once of their entry blanks.

SCHOOL FOR BANKERS

A meeting is set for a nearby date when the Bankers School for Grove City bankers for the 1931-1932 season will be arranged for. Schools have been held each winter for the past fives years. Each winter some important phase of banking is taken up and considered. Competent instruction is always secured.

Twenty-three were enrolled in the 1930 school with Attorney John V. Wherry the teacher.

Boy Scout News

LAUD RUNYAN GIFT

Scout Executive Herbert G. Horton, noting the recent gift of the Runyan family of Ellwood City to the Ellwood district organization, wrote the following in "The Lawrence Lookout," scouting bulletin:

"The Runyan family gets a long cheer for the deed conveying nine acres of land to the Ellwood district committee for use as a week-end and overnight camp site. The land is located in Beaver county and is only a short hike from Ellwood City. Jack Pearson was one surprised man when the deed was presented at a Kiwanis dinner."

HERALD FALL EVENTS

Preparations have already been launched for the various fall activities of the Lawrence county council, it was learned today. They include a court of honor for September; organization of Community chest teams for the new drive; the New Castle field meet, postponed from early summer; the deputies' get-together and lineup of all activities; the annual troop contest, starting October 1; resumption of the second section of the leader training course; making plans for Armistice day; council committee meetings for leader training, troop organization, sea scouting, camping, publicity.

SCOUTER ROLL GROWS

New scouters welcomed into the Boy Scouts official family here of late, announced at headquarters recently, are as follows: Scoutmaster William Latiano and assistants, J. R. Gottuse, H. Biano and J. T. Metza with Troop Committeemen L. J. Parrilo (district representative), Rev. V. Galliano, D. F. Barsotti, C. Maietta and A. W. Siriani, and 16 scouts, the Ellwood troop.

At a recent meeting there were 596 scouts reported in Lawrence county by Rex Patch, troop organization chairman.

First Methodist Men Entertain At Corn Roast

Archie Gordon, Ralph Reed, Dr. J. H. Carpenter, J. L. Fink, W. A. Myers and John L. Emery have everything ready for a big time Friday evening and have even spoken to the weather man to serve a brand of weather that is perfect for a picnic, as the Men's Bible class of the First Methodist church has chosen that evening for their corn roast and supper at Lakewood and all their plans point to success in the affair.

The wives and families will be guests and dinner will be served at 6:30. Each one is asked to bring silverware, cups and a "big appetite".

John L. Emery, phone 860 or 4928, is in charge of transportation.

WEEKLY HEALTH TALK

"Child welfare is properly a major interest these days. Well-baby clinics, prenatal centers, dental hygiene, school medical inspection, summer round-ups, toxin-antitoxin campaigns and many other wise procedures have focused attention upon the children and have been of incalculable benefit to them. But the subject would not be so absorbing as to exclude the possibility that the parents of these children may be in need of some investigation, repair or treatment themselves," said Doctor Theodore B. Appel, Secretary of Health, today.

"Recently a father and mother brought their three children into a physician's office for a physical check up prior to their going to a camp for a month. These youngsters were the very pictures of vitality, thanks to the application of preventative medicine and wise paternal care. A careful examination gave them a clean bill of health.

"At the conclusion of this service, the doctor suggested that it might not be amiss for the older folks to have a 'once over' as well, and thus make a complete job of it. Smilingly, though half-heartedly, the investigation was made and to their painful surprise both were suffering from an incipient disease—the mother was host to latent tuberculosis, while the father was unwittingly entertaining an impaired heart condition.

"This case is by no means an exception. A number of instances have recently been noticed where extreme solicitation for the children was off-set by an absolute lack of interest in the parents's own physical well-being. It follows that health concern should not be made an exclusive matter and be thus limited to the younger people.

"Parents should realize that a number of the leading disease killers of middle life have a habit of taking up their residence in the body long before the average man or woman experiences any noticeable physical reaction. Among these maladies are tuberculosis, cancer, diabetes and heart conditions.

"It follows that the annual physical check up, while good for the youngsters, is equally important for grown-ups. Therefore, be solicitous about your children by all means, but don't forget yourself in the process."

Carroll Donates Floral Display

Adorning the business office of The News today were 30 different varieties of gladiolus raised in the garden of James Carroll, Rebecca street. Mr. Carroll made the generous gift this morning.

Two flowers of each variety were presented.

Mr. Carroll so far has grown 80 different varieties in his garden, the beauties being presented today being just a mere sample of the gorgeous flowers he grows.

White, $3.05 Gallon

We maintain no costly warehouses; we pay no factory salesmen's salaries and expenses; only one profit is required on Seroco Paints, and that a very modest profit per can because Sears volume is so huge. Take Seroco Master Mixed as an example of how much saving this means to you. It is the same high quality as the best known nationally advertised house paints that are selling around $3.60 the gallon. Sears saves you a full dollar a gallon when you say "Master Mixed for me!"

Cavalrymen Enjoy Historic Country On Four Day March

(By FORREST L. FLORIDA)

COPENHAFFER, Pa., Aug. 19.—Troop "F" moved out of Colebrook Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock enroute on our four-day march and bivouac. Our route followed was No. 210 from Colebrook through Lawn to Elizabethtown. From there we traveled on route No. 230 through Rheems to Florin where we left the main road and took a short cut over to route No. 141, turning to the right and traveling this route for about a mile and turning off to the left on a dirt road leading to Lancaster, Pa.

After winding around this road for about five miles we finally arrived here. The truck assigned to carry our rations and kitchen equipment and cook's helpers and your writer turned out to be a "Limping Lizzie" and about every two miles Sgt. Florida, our mess sergeant, had to sit on the bumper and pull the choke out on account of dirt in the gas line.

About two miles from here we made a wrong turn on an upgrade and in stopping it was found the brakes would not hold. We had a water tank as a trailer with two members of "G" troop riding the seat and they got the thrill of their lives when this huge QMC truck started backing down hill with them in the lead. One of the boys jumped off and grabbing a huge rock finally managed to get the truck stopped but not until the water tank was in the ditch. No one was injured in the least, just thrilled. After getting the truck turned around the tank was coupled up and pulled out and we were once more on our way. On account of having the slowest truck in the train we made the trip by following our various noses but with the exception of the one false turn—which was my fault—we made camp like a homing pigeon. We arrived here at 10:20 a. m. and immediately the kitchen crew started to put up the cook tent, setting up the field range and in short order dinner was started. The troops coming mounted were not expected to arrive for several hours, as they were working out a reconnaissance problem on the way. This with the necessary stops every hour to rest both men and animals will cause them to be five or six hours on the route that took our truck just short of two hours. Just at present the camp site is very chaotic. One might wonder how these troops could possibly make a camp out of the maze of kitchen equipment and officers equipment laying around. But I just noticed that the troop's kitchens that were among the first arrivals have smoke coming out of their ranges now and in a very short time we will all be settled down and feeding our empty stomachs.

Sgt. Measel has arrived and the picket line will be up in short order and ready to tie the horses up when they arrive. Forage for the horses also arrived and everything is about in readiness for the troop.

Corporal William J. Hemming, who has been assigned to the "rookie" school as an instructor the past week, has a new job today. He volunteered as a truck driver for the hike today and just told me that it is the sofest job he ever had. He rather desires it as he has been highly commended by his superior officers at the school as an efficient soldier. Some of the non-commissioned officers detailed to this school don't seem to know much more than the "rookies", according to various reports received, and it is an honor to have a non-com from this troop so highly commended.

An accident that might have proved serious happened shortly after the troop arrived. Pvt. Dick Miller had the misfortune to get kicked in the shins by one of our temperamental horses and he was rushed to the infirmary. We are happy to say that his leg was not broken as first reported and he just walked down the troop street feeling "as well as could be expected" with a pretty red, white and blue bruise.

The troop, which left Colebrook at about 8:30 Monday morning, arrived here at 1:50 p. m. with every man present and accounted for and in good condition except that they were all hungry, tired and thirsty. These troubles have been taken care of and everybody has been cleaning themselves up and getting ready to see the sights.

We are encamped for the night about one-fourth mile from Copenhaffer, which place is about seven miles from Columbia. The camp is pitched in a big field of about ten acres and a more ideal site could not have been selected. Both the 103rd and 104th regiments are here with both headquarters and the headquarters of the 52nd cavalry brigade. In fact, the entire brigade is encamped here with the exception of those few "sick, lame and lazy" that each troop left at Colebrook to guard the respective troop streets and such equipment as could not be brought along. We left only two men in camp. These were Pvt. Hawk who was injured several weeks ago at home when his horse slipped on a paved street in Mahoningtown and threw him, severely injuring his head and shoulders, and Pvt. Shelar, the trooper who came to camp with Mr. Round with a broken leg in order to boost the troop's percentage of men at camp. These two men neither could ride a horse and as some one had to be left these two were selected.

Pvt. Rick, one of our veterans from Troop "A", 104th cavalry, who has been in the air corps of the regular army stationed at Ft. Crocket, Galveston, Texas, with the eighth squadron of the third attack group and who re-enlisted in this troop shortly before camp was selected to act as one of the firing squad for the member of Troop B that was drowned. One man from each troop was selected as a member and the pallbearers were selected from B troop and other troops in the vicinity of Philadelphia. These men left with the funeral party at 3:30 Monday morning and escorted the body to Philadelphia where the funeral services were held at the Sacred Heart church at 9:30 Monday morning. Pvt. Rick rejoined us at Copenhaffer at 6 p. m. and stated that the firing squad was very good. They acted without previous instruction and performed their duty in an excellent manner.

Mrs. Bintrim, Mrs. Mitchell, Louis Round, Major W. C. Jackson, Capt. Reed and Mr. Melvin left for home Monday morning immediately after our troop left camp, after spending an enjoyable week-end with us. We, too, enjoyed having them with us and hope that they all have a safe journey home. As stated in my letter yesterday, Mr. Round expects to return to us and finish out this maneuver with us.

As it is just about dusk and my day's work not being quite completed, I shall have to close as we left our electric lights at camp and this office closes at dark for the night, we hope.

GIRL SCOUTS COUNCILS ARE GUESTS TUESDAY

The Units Give Interesting New Stunts At Their Campfires

Tuesday was a day of special interest at the Girl Scout Camp on the Slippery Rock with nine members of the New Castle Girl Scout Council and eleven members of the Ellwood City Council present as guests.

At the campfire in the evening, each unit gave a most interest stunt. The Never Never Land Unit presented a very original one; The Sherwood Forest group "The Goat," The Knights "It was born 10,000 years ago" and the Pioneers presented "The Owl and The Cat". Each unit sang their unit song after their stunt.

The songs presented were as follows: Never Never Land—"O Peter Pan"; Sherwood Forest—"Under the Greenwood Tree"; the Knights—"To the Knights" and Pioneers — "Pioneer Song".

The campfire Peter Pan and the Pioneer Song were written by Miss Frances Andrews, counselor of the Pioneer Unit. Every visitor and every member of the camp had a splendid time on Tuesday.

Suits Are Filed To Collect Bills

Three suits for milk bills have been filed at the prothonotary's office against the Fairfield Dairy Co. One is by A. H. Cameron for $15, another by W. F. McCracken for $12 and a third by John C. Sickafuse for $17.37.

TO FORECLOSE MORTGAGE

Helen S. Newell and Sarah Newell have filed papers at the prothonotary's office in foreclosure proceedings against Thomas W. Solomon and Roy F. Preston, actual owner of the land.

If the land surface of the earth was divided between the inhabitants, each person would receive about 20 acres.

Oil And Grease Entering System

Frank Nugent, superintendent of the municipal sewage disposal plant when asked today if any oil or grease was reaching the plant, declared affirmatively. Some months ago an ordinance was enacted with prescribed severe penalties for violation of its provisions. The measure prohibited the dumping of grease, oil or other viscuous material in the sanitary sewer system.

The Hitlerites failed in Prussia and the Communists were a bad third. Between the two the government still lives.—The Janesville Daily Gazette.

In Strange Case

Mrs. J. Woodall Greene (above), beautiful New York matron, was driving in Baltimore with R. Wallace Kolb, wealthy baking company executive, when the latter was shot, according to stories told the police, by a man who leaped from ambush on the running board of the automobile. Mrs. Greene is the estranged wife of a New York realtor and a niece of J. Russell Lamar, former Supreme Court Justice.

CHEWTON

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

A number of friends of Merl Houk gathered at his home Saturday night and helped him to celebrate his 18th birthday. The evening was spent in playing games and at a late hour a delicious lunch was served to those present. The honor guest was the recipient of many pretty and useful gifts. Those included in the guest list were Mildred McDaniel, Erma and Naomi Herbert, Violet Houk, Mabel Solsberg, Ruth Davis, Emma Smith, Nellie Ippolito, and Pansy Houk, Glenn Hennon, Louis Guy, Tommy Houk, Elmer Kelly, Charles Solsberg, Martin Houk, Russell Fosnaught, Paul Houk, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Badger and son Jack, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Houk.

GUY REUNION

The first reunion of the Peter and Charlotte Guy descendants was held Saturday afternoon and evening at the old homestead, now the home of Mrs. Viola Guy. There were 76 present. The afternoon was spent in sports of various kinds and a general good time was enjoyed by all those present. There is but one living direct descendant of Peter and Charlotte Guy, and that is W. P. Guy Sr. Another interesting fact was that there were four generations present at the reunion, namely: Mrs. A. C. Guy, W. P. Guy Jr., Mrs. Carl Rhineheart and Helen Ann Rhineheart. At seven o'clock a picnic supper was served, after which the business meeting was held and officers elected for the coming year. W. P. Guy Sr., president; Earl W. Guy, vice president; W. P. Guy Jr., secretary; A. C. Guy, treasurer.

It was decided to hold the reunion at the same place the third Saturday in August next year. Those who attended the reunion this year were: Mr. and Mrs. David Fields, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Guy, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Guy and daughter Isola, Mrs. A. C. Guy and Charles Creed, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Seiple, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Belke and sons, Ira and Mervin, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rhineheart and daughter Helen Ann, all of Beaver Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Guy of Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Stillwell and son Raymond of Wierton, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gillespie and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Guy, W. H. Cole and Edward Rouse of Ellwood City, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Guy and daughter Hazel, Mrs. James Cross and son Philip, Earl W. Guy, Virginia and Arthur Guy of New Castle; Mr. and Mrs. Scott Guy and family, Mrs. Kezia Guy, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wellhausen and family of Energy; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Guy and family of West Pittsburg; Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Guy Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Guy Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown and family, Mrs. Charles Davis and family, Mrs. Viola Guy, C. B. Guy, Louis Guy, Herman Guy, Merl Guy, Louise Guy, Ada Louise Guy, all of Chewton, and Miss Louise Martin of Koppel.

Douglas Social Club Is Active

Planning To Assist Colored Voters Of The City In Exercising Franchise

The Douglas Social Civic and Welfare club, which was organized January 24, 1930 for the purpose of advancing the interest of persons of the colored race in this city, is planning to assist persons of that race in the exercise of their right of franchise in the coming primary and election.

J. H. Clark, president of the club, announced today that citizen's committees consisting of members of the club had been appointed to assist the voters of the seventh and eighth wards.

The eighth ward committee consists of Jerome Cooper, G. W. Finch, and William Derr. The Seventh ward committee consists of Frank Wagner, James McCarthy and Levi Beard.

Deal Harshly With "Tough" Prisoners

"Toughest Prisoner" In Eastern Pen And Six Others Will Get Solitary Confinement

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—William "Blackie" Zupkosky, termed the "toughest" prisoner ever lodged in the Eastern penitentiary, and six other inmates of the prison who aided him in an attack on two other convicts a week ago, will face solitary imprisonment for the remainder of their sentences, it was revealed today.

Announcement of this punishment was made following a meeting of the board of trustees of the institution. The trustees also placed their approval on the handling of the situation by Warden Herbert Smith which developed out of the stabbing of Max "Chink" Rothman and Lewis "Fats" Barish by members of Zupkosky's gang.

Get Ready For Printing Ballots

Big Job Ahead For County Commissioners In Arranging Blanket Sheet

Following the drawing for places on the primary ticket county commissioners and clerks are busy arranging papers in preparation for the printing of the ballots. The ballots this year will be large owing to the long list of candidates. Ballots for the city will contain the names of ward candidates in addition to the regular city and county candidates. In country districts the ballots will contain the county ticket as well as the different borough and township officers. As soon as the papers have been arranged bids will be asked for the printing of the ballots.

EXPECT TO START STATE BUILDINGS EARLY IN OCTOBER

HARRISBURG, Aug. 19.—Several weeks more must elapse before the State's building program at its various institutions gets under way. In a number of instances architects have not been announced to prepare the plans for the additions and new construction to be paid out of appropriations made by the last legislature.

Some time ago Secretary of Property and Supplies James F. Malone announced the names of a group of architects that had been chosen to work on several institutions. The work is now in progress but the department is not yet ready to begin advertising for bids.

Even after the architects go to work more time must elapse before construction work can be started. It is unlikely that actual construction can be started on a major scale before October and possibly later. In event of unfavorable weather at that time much of the work would necessarily be deferred until 1932.

The State is opening bids soon for construction work in connection with the dam at the Pymatuning reservoir project. There is an appropriation of $1,500,000 available. This project is of such a nature that much of the work will be performed with unskilled labor and mechanical devices.

Road building operations throughout the State continue to show weekly gains in the number of men employed. Last Saturday the highway department assumed full responsibility for the 20,000 miles of township road added by the legislature. Improvement projects were started immediately in each county and more are to follow. It is the plan of the department to improve 1700 miles of this road before winter.

Merchants To Complete Plans For Big Outing

Committees Meet This Evening At The Chamber Of Commerce Headquarters

A meeting of the committee in charge of the big annual picnic of the merchants of the city, which will be held next week at Cascade Park, has been called for this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce headquarters in the Greer Building, North Mercer street. At this time, all plans for the big affair on next Wednesday will be worked out. The present plans are such as to indicate that the outing of the merchants this year, will be the biggest event of the year at Cascade Park. There will be something doing every minute of the day and valuable prizes will be awarded.

Inez Norton Denies Attempt At Suicide

Former Actress Sweetheart Of Arnold Rothstein Denies She Tried To Kill Herself

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19.—It was sea food and a few cocktails that sent Inez Norton, 28, actress sweetheart of the late Arnold Rothstein, to the hospital and not attempted suicide, the star declared today.

"Suicide? That's silly!" she said. "I had been to a beach with my son and some friends and had partaken of a sea-food dinner. Later I was silly enough to drink a few cocktails and before long I was stricken with a slight attack of ptomaine poisoning."

Shoppers Do Not Crowd Park Space

Recently an inspection of cars parked in downtown thoroughfares was made by persons attached to the department of police, the purpose being to determine the ownership of the cars. It is not known if an effort was made to find out if the cars were parked by persons trading in stores or who had gone to work in offices and other places.

A survey conducted in Philadelphia showed that approximately only one per cent of the parked vehicles in urban centers are those of people trading with merchants where cars are parked. With few exceptions this is found to be the situation in American cities, it is reported.

Chicago had 1.9 per cent of office patrons and shoppers whose cars were parked at or near buildings or stores where their owners were doing business.

Wolves Club Hears Interesting Talks

Quite A Number Of Visitors Are Present At Dinner Meeting Last Night

Regular semi-monthly meeting of the Wolves Club held last night at the Elks Club was well attended and proved one of the most interesting meetings held in some time.

Following the dinner, Dr. J. P. Prioletti, a vice-president of the club, presided in the absence of the President, D. D. Valiensi. Some very interesting talks were given by Dr. John Palazzo, who has just returned from a trip aboard and Attorney Carmin Marinaro of Butler, Pa. Copple brothers presented several very pleasing instrumental selections on the accordian.

There were a number of visitors in attendance at the affair, including Attorney Carmin Marinaro of Butler, Ernest Litrenta of Baltimore, Md., and Messrs. Anthony Zitalone, Joseph Bordonaro, Frank Massei and Dominick Fragale, all of Butler, Pa. The visitors from Butler are members of the Butler Wolves Club.

$30,000 Demanded For Auto Crash

Mrs. Martha D. Trimble Alleges Husband, John, Died From Injuries

Martha D. Trimble has filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against the Mennel Milling company of Toledo, O., in which she asks $30,000 damages for the death of her husband, John Trimble, aged 55, who died as the result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident.

In the statement of claim it is alleged that on January 29, 1930, John Trimble was riding in a car driven by his son Kenneth on the Meadville-Greenville road. The road runs north and south and Trimble was proceeding south on the right hand side of the road.

The road was wet from melting snow. It is alleged that a car of the defendant company driven by L. S. Reel was proceeding north on the road at a high rate of speed, in excess of 40 miles per hour. When the Reel car approached the Trimble car it is alleged that the Reel car was driven across the center of the road and struck the Trimble car.

Mr. Trimble was thrown forward over the steering wheel and against the windshield, receiving serious injuries. He was treated in several hospitals and finally died on November 14 from the effects of his injuries.

It is claimed that the Trimble car was driven partly off the concrete in order to avoid being struck by the Reel car. Negligence in the operation of the Reel car is alleged.

Bandit Victim Dies, Murder Charge Made

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 18.—Following the death early today of Gay Carroll, 18, gasoline station attendant, who was shot last week, Albert Williams, 30, was charged with first degree murder. Williams shot Carroll last week in perpetration of a holdup, and a companion is also being sought.

Police are staging a vigorous campaign against stickups and robberies, and many arrests are being made.

ROUNDHEAD VETS GUEST OF HONOR AT ANNUAL MEET

Crafton, Pa., president of the Roundheads, himself a survivor of Company K.

The annual banquet had been prepared for 75 persons and was to start early this afternoon in the church dining hall.

Widows, daughters and descendants of the original Roundheads were expected to attend the reunion of the few surviving participants in the battles for which the regiment became famous. Of the original roster of 2,014 members there are about 45 known alive today. Only a small number of these are able to attend due to their extreme age.

The reunion meeting that is to follow the banquet will be opened with a prayer by Rev. J. R. Rankin, the chaplain of the Roundheads, who is a survivor of Company F.

risking disaster by taking off in the mist or attempting to taxi their plane to the rocky shore of the island.

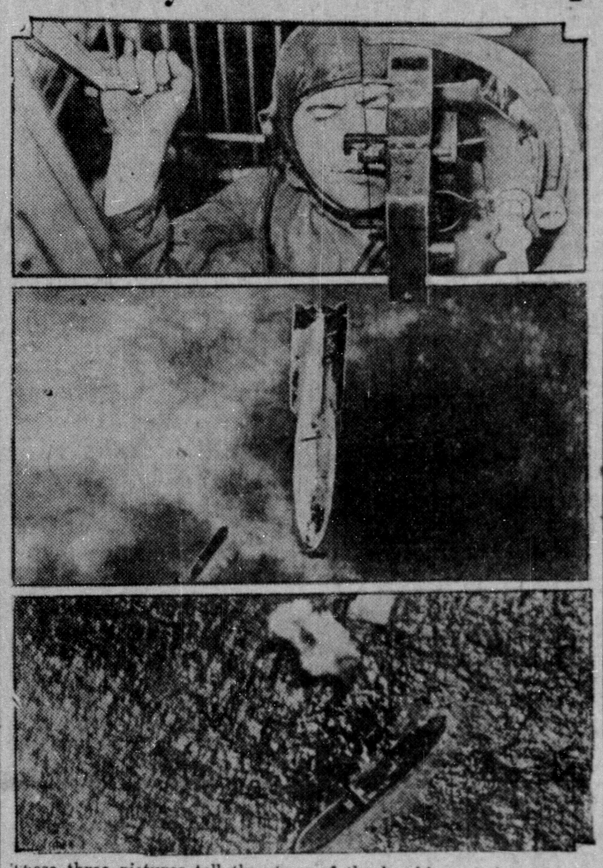

Population Disappointed

News of their forced descent came as a keen blow to the population of Nemuro, a bustling little town on Hokkaido Island at the northern extremity of the Japanese empire, where the Lindberghs were scheduled to descend before reaching Tokyo, destination of their vacation trip into the Orient.

The descent off Ketoi Island was the second forced landing made by the Lindberghs after leaving Petropavlovsk at 10:45 a. m. (9:45 p. m., Tuesday E. D. T.) shortly after the take-off, they were forced down in Avatchu Bay by engine trouble, but the damage was quickly repaired and the journey resumed.

As Army Tried to Sink Ship

These three pictures tell the story of the bombing of the transport Mt. Shasta by ten U. S. Army bombing planes from Langley Field Va. The Army fliers, although they scored two direct hits, failed to sink the craft while the Navy is reported to have snickered and the Coast Guard actually sank the transport by gunfire. Top picture shows Bomber Charles F. Clemens at the sights ready to drop 100 pounds of destruction on the Mt. Shasta. Center picture shows a bomb as it fell toward its mark far below. Bottom photo depicts the same bomb falling wide of its mark. The aerial attack took place off the Virginia Capes.

No Shortage of Action!

The annual Gold Cup race, held off Montauk, Long Island, was a classic of speed and power as usual and, as in 1930, Hotsy Totsy, piloted by Victor W. Kliesrath (insert), won the speedy blue ribbon event of the racing season. The entries in the Gold Cup race, speeding by the judges' stand, while framed in flying spray are, front to back: The Californian, Miss Philadelphia, the Hotsy Totsy, the Red Banker and the Louisa. Miss Philadelphia was second and California placed third. Kliesrath is shown holding the coveted trophy.

Holding Trio As Robbery Suspects

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Aug. 19.—Police today filed charges of carrying concealed weapons against Guy Carson, Elmer Duke and Catherine Jones, who were arrested as suspects in a series of robberies here Monday. Unable to post $500 bond each they were remanded to jail pending a hearing today before Municipal Judge Harry Brokaw. Charges of suspicion against Harold Amos and Clarence D. Martin were dismissed.

Maintenance Folk Of Pennsy Stage Lively Corn Roast

Heavy Rain Disappears To Permit Merry Time At Cascade Outing

Although Jupiter Pluv's tactics did throw a wet blanket to a certain degree on the Cascade park cornroast of the Pennsylvania railroad's local maintenance-of-way force last night it didn't spoil the evening's fun altogether.

Underneath one of the picnic grove's shelter houses, the group of 39, including employes of the department and their families, the jolly group dined and chatted until the rainfall ended. An elaborate picnic menu, with delicious corn and baked ham to top it off, was served.

Five out-of-town guests who shared the outing were Track Supervisor and Mrs. T. L. Hofmeister, Ashtabula, O., Track Supervisor and Mrs. C. P. Sipe, Sharon and H. E. Johnson also of Sharon an assistant to Mr. Sipe, on the engineering corps.

Superintendent and Mrs. H. T. Prushour and different members of his official staff and their wives also attended.

Division Engineer J. S. Gillum was chairman of arrangements, assisted capably by Miss Irene Ubry, Fred W. Mayberry and O. A. Ishler.

With the weather cleared, the guests enjoyed the amusements of the park until a late hour.

Two New York Gunmen Slain

Gangsters Defy Police And Slay Two Rivals Almost In Shadow Of Police Station

VICTIMS MOWED DOWN FROM BACK

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 19—Police drives against gangsters in New York were further defied today after the two ex-convict bootleggers were shot to death virtually in the shadows of police headquarters.

Three gunmen walking in "Little Italy" just before midnight recognized two of their rivals just ahead of them and opened fire, each gangster pulling out two pistols. In all 30 bullets were fired.

Joseph Cignia, 21, was shot seven times in the back and Anthony Justiano, 25, was shot ten times in the back. Both of the victims were gunmen, gangsters and bootleggers according to police.

They recently finished serving six months in jail for bootlegging at Buffalo. Cignia also had served two and one half years for robbery and Justiano had a felon's record. Justiano police said, was a brother of a gangster who shot and killed a policeman here in 1925.

TELEVISIONS

YOU WOULD say she had X-ray eyes . . . was clairvoyant . . . a fortune teller—except that thousands of shoppers see as clearly as she into the contents of perfectly opaque jars, and foretell with the same swift accuracy the future of the things they buy.

Advertising is her television. Advertising gives her complete advance information. Quietly, in a congenial corner of her home, she thinks and determines before she buys. Finding out about the newest foundation cream, the crispest breakfast food, the most gossamer brand of hose. Comparing these with others. Making selections serenely. Going forth to buy. . . .

She has only this left to do. No worrying or hesitating when confronted by two jars, each equally inviting. No doubts about their makers. Advertisements have told her the invisible merits—given her clear true images of the contents of those jars, and the results of their use.

Rare is the woman who can boast she has never bought anything she wishes she hadn't bought. But with the aid of advertisements, that sort of buying is almost entirely done away with. A regular reading of advertisements keeps shopping-tempers sweet.

Tennis Court Is In Constant Use

Cherry Street Court Winning More Popularity—Improvements Being Made

Ever since it's opening last month, the Cherry street tennis court, built and maintained by a group of young men of that district, has been a success in every way.

After the completion of the court a tennis club was formed, the members of which pay a small season fee to curtail expenses. The court is much better than it was, according to Robert Tackitt, secretary of the club, owing to it's steady use and the rains of the past week.

The backstops and stone markers are being repainted and the court was just recently re-lined. A long bench has been built on one side. Back of this a horse-shoe court is being built.

Club members are progressing very rapidly in the act of playing tennis. A few Mahoningtown tennis enthusiasts have joined the organization and spend many evenings on the court. Five members have been entered in the Sears, Roebuck tennis tournament.

Milo D. Paden Seeks Nomination For Commissioner

Mahoning Township Farmer Believes Card System Should Be Used For Taxes

MILO D. PADEN

Milo D. Paden, a well known farmer of Mahoning township, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for county commissioner. His statement follows:

"Since the inception of Lawrence county, there has never been a county commissioner elected from Mahoning township. While this fact in itself may not be important, the citizens of that township feel that a sense of fairness upon the part of the voters should give the township some representation. Mahoning township is the second largest tax paying township in this county.

"My entire life, 42 years, has been spent in Lawrence county. As a farmer I believe I understand the needs of the rural section. This knowledge has come through my experience on the farm, as an assessor, as a road supervisor, and as county chairman of the county Supervisors' and Auditors' association.

"If nominated and elected one of the first changes I would advocate in the commissioners' office would be the installation of the tax card notification system for the tax payers. The matter of a new court house has been in the public eye for many years. It is my belief that this matter should be left to a vote of the people.

"The taking over of 20,000 miles of rural road in Pennsylvania, which means 195 miles in Lawrence county, is one of the most forward steps in highways that this state has ever seen. As a commissioner I would devote my best energies to the closest cooperation with the state highway department to the end that this county would get the best roads possible for the least possible money.

"The money received from the state as a refund of gas tax I believe should be spent under a definite plan, looking towards the improvement of township roads, highways through boros and roads leading into the city. The care of the needy is one that requires careful planning and judicious execution. The assessments on property should be fair and equitable with no thought of politics entering into the matter. Finally, taxes should be expended in a carefully studied manner, always keeping in mind the best interests of the citizens of this county.

"If nominated and elected I pledge myself to carrying out these suggestionstions and ask the support of the Republican voters on September 15th."

Fellow Prisoners Lament Charley's Flair For Pranks

(International News Service)

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 19.—Charley Clark is back in the county jail here—and a collective groan from fellow prisoners greeted his return.

Charley is a natural play-boy. Last time he was in the jail they had to put him out before he wrecked it. Charley gave over his spare time to such pranks as jamming the master lock by sticking matches in it, tampering with the plumbing and scaring the wits out of prisoners and officials by smashing a gas pipe which flooded the cell rooms with fumes.

In desperation other prisoners took up a collection and hired a lawyer who got Charley out.

But he was picked up on a larceny charge and returned. Sheriff A. F. Habig promises Charley will be under special guard until he is tried in October.

Jockey Suspended For Betting Mixup

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 19—Dave Bryant, jockey who was reported to have fled Chicago in a mix-up with betters at Hawthorne race track, was under indefinite suspension today by the Illinois Turf Association.

Joseph A. Murphy, presiding steward, stated that a week's investigation indicated Bryant had "touted" one horse to win while riding another and hal left town when his mount won.

Judge Ben Lindsey Is Operated Upon

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19—Judge Ben B. Lindsey, formerly of Denver and world known juvenile and martial court jurist, Tuesday had undergone a serious abdominal operation, Mrs. Lindsey announced at their home here.

Suffering from an acute shock due to the operation, Judge Lindsey is "not yet out of danger" according to Mrs. Lindsey.

The operation was performed yesterday by Dr. H. Elmer Belt, it was said.

Prepare Syllabus On School Study

Dr. Green, Committees Work On Different Subjects To Guide Teachers

An extensive syllabus on social subjects taught in the city schools will be completed soon by committees in collaboration with Superintendent of Schools Green. The subjects are treated in separate booklets which are being printed in the school print shop and will serve as valuable guides to teachers who bring the particular subjects before classes.

The social studies include History, Civics, English, Geography, Reading, etc.

Canning Lesson At Carnegie Hall Friday At 1 P.M.

Community Garden Products Will Be Canned By Most Modern Methods In Cookery

All members of the Garden club will assemble in the Carnegie Auditorium, South Jefferson street, Saturday at 12:30 in order to make preliminary preparations for the second canning demonstration, which will be made at 1 o'clock by Mrs. Elizabeth Carson.

At this time corn and beans will be canned and the same vegetables will be dried and the making of tomato paste will be demonstrated.

All those who have had community gardens or received seed from the American Red Cross are especially urged to be present in order that they may learn the best method of preserving the products they have raised during the summer months.

Jars will also be given out at this time to those who had the community gardens, but it is necessary that the mother or father or a grown up daughter is present in order to receive them.

The Garden Club is still in need of jars and any one having more to give for this work will leave word with the Red Cross or any member of the Garden club and they will be called for.

The Garden club members are urging that all those who had gardens this summer come to the demonstration Saturday as Mrs. Carson will explain the very best methods of preserving the vegetables for winter use.

DRINKING DROPS TO 1,280,000,000 GALLONS OF BEER

BERLIN, Aug. 19.—Beer drinking is on the decline in Germany.

Consumption of beer for the last year was only 1,280,000,000 gallons, or a decrease of 16.5 as compared to last year, figures available today showed. The high point in beer consumption was reached just before the World war, when it totaled almost 2,000,000,000 gallons.

ENGLAND'S OLDEST WOMAN NOW 107

Mrs. Roff, of Plymouth who recently celebrated her 107th birthday is believed to be the oldest woman in Great Britain. Born when George IV was on the thorne, she has lived in five reigns: William IV, Queen Victoria, Edward VII and George V. Her faculties are good and although she spends most of her time in bed, she is able to sit in a chair several hours each day. She lived many years in London, where her husband was a wharf owner. Her grandson, Lieutenant-Colonel Frank Phillips, is a partner in a firm of shipping agents.

LOUDEST DRUM IS OWNED IN COLORADO

WIGGINS, Colo., Aug. 19.—William Beard, a rancher, who lives here, believes he has the oldest, and certainly one of the loudest drums in the world.

Back in 1870, James Denny, a Civil war veteran, and a cabinetmaker by trade, who incidentally was Beard's grandfather, set about to make himself a drum.

He fashioned the shell from cherry-wood, and tanned sheepskins for the head. From solid pieces of wood he turned the sticks and over the end of each wrapped deer skin.

The drum was made in Indiana. It has descended through the family until it now is in the possession of Beard. Thirty-six inches in diameter across the top, and two feet deep, it has a sonorous and impressive tone.

PENNSYLVANIA FARMER KILLS GOLDEN EAGLE

TARENTUM, Pa., Aug. 19.—A golden eagle was shot and killed by a farmer near here after a futile effort to carry away a large shepherd dog.

The eagle, a rare bird, dropped the dog after rising a few feet from the ground, circled the farm and swopped down after a chicken. The farmer shot the bird with the chicken in its claws.

The eagle, protected in this state was turned over to Ralph A. Liphart, of the state game commission. It has a wing spread of nearly 73 inches. The bird will be used for educational purposes by the state game commission.

"IF YOU SHOULD ASK"

The ostrich was once raised for its plumes, but is now being raised for skins only, because women's styles today do not include plumes.

Dr. Clendening Gives Fundamentals Of Diet Necessary For Health

Sufficiency, Cleanliness, Bulk, Balance Most Important Elements In Foods For Normal Individual

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Everyone agrees, I think, that in retaining health the most important element over which we have control is a proper diet. Instruction to the public on this vital subject has, however, been badly confussed; partly by the employment of misunderstood or technical terms—a whirl of calories, grams, vitamins, proteins, etc.; partly by extravagant claims for the value of certain dietary balances: and especially by the preachings of ignorant faddists who destroy confidence in wholesome articles of food by claiming they will cause certain diseases.

The fundamental principles of dietics are, however, quite simple. Let us reduce them to the simplest possible form.

A healthy diet for a normal individual must have four qualities, which are, in the order of their importance: 1, sufficiency; 2, Cleanliness; 3, balance; 4, bulk.

1. Enough. Naturally, the first consideration. It varies with age, size of the body, and activity. A Packard car needs more gasoline than an Austin. Your car needs less gasoline when you simply drive to the movies than when you tour across the state. Your body acts the same way.

There is only one way of measuring the "enoughness" of food. Not by bulk. High-test gasoline is better, ounce by ounce, than low test. The unit of food value is the calorie—much as the word has been bandied about it must be understood to know dietetics. Different foods yield different amounts of calories— fats about twice as much as starches or proteins. In general, depending upon age, weight and activity an adult uses from 2,000 to 4,000 calories a day.

The appetite is a delicate regulator of the amount of food you need. Naturally for most people the big meal of the day comes at night, at the end of activity. In most American homes half the daily food ration is eaten in the evening, a third at noon, and a sixth at breakfast.

2. Cleanliness. This means principally that the food must be free from germs.

3. Balance. An adequate diet must contain six chemical varieties of substances: 1, proteins (in general, this means animal foods—meat, eggs and milk—but many vegetables also contain large amounts of protein, such as beans, peas and nuts); 2, starches and sugars, found in vegetables, fruits, cereals, bread, etc.; 3, fats; 2, water; 5, minerals—there is salt in all tissues, iron in the blood, calcium in the bones, phosphorus in the brain, etc., and all have to be supplied; 6, vitamins found in fruits, vegetables, yeast and animal fats, which increase resistance, promote proper growth and, in popular language, blood purity.

Of the three energy-giving divisions of the diet, the truly balanced diet should have one-half starches and sugars, one-fourth protein and one-fourth fat.

4. Bulk, or roughage, constitutes the non-absorbable parts of the food, necessary for proper elimination by bowel.

In the remaining articles this week we will consider the application of these principles to the great classes of food—daily products, vegetables, fruits, meats and "extras."

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Indigestion and Constipation." "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

Welsh News

By WILLIAMS A. JOHNS
(Brython)

Additional news has been received of the winners at the National Eisteddfod of Wales. The choir of South Wales captured the chief prize.

The Swansea male party won the chief prize for the male parties and the Norristown male party came in second.

A prayer meeting was held at the Emmanuel Baptist church last Sunday evening when the lesson of the evening was read by the deacon Griffith Phillips and solo was rendered by Mrs. Richard T. Morris. A Welsh hymn was sung by the audience. The following led in prayer: William C. Jenkins, deacon John Davies from the First Congregational church, Mrs. Willi J. Lewis and deacon Benjamin Jones. Miss Annie Jones was at the piano.

Next Sunday evening the friends and the members of the Emmanuel Baptist church will have the pleasure of hearing Miss Botham a missionary from Africa. Miss Sallie Botham is back home on her vacation after spending many years among the people of Africa.

The members of the Star of Wales Lodge No. 60 True Ivorites of America will meet next Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Emmanuel Baptist church school room when Joseph Leyde the delegate to the annual convention at New York will be back. He will render his report. The installation of officers will also take place. Daniel Hughes will be in charge of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Williams and family of Sheridan avenue have returned home from a visit to Akron, Ohio where they visited friends.

On next Wednesday the Welsh reunion of the people of Youngstown will take place when a interesting program will be presented.

Local residents are expecting the return of Rev. Rees T. Williams, pastor of the First Congregational church. He is expected to return the first week in September.

Across the Kalahari Desert in a Ford

THIS is the story of 3500 miles of grueling automobile travel through the sandy coastal region of Southwest Africa, across the Kalahari Desert and through N'Gamiland.

Five naturalists, representing the Philadelphia Academy of Natural Sciences, three South Africans and three native boys were in the de Schauensee expedition. Seldom do white men visit this country. Seldom do white men penetrate to the last remote stronghold of the fast disappearing African Bushman. The trip was made in a Ford car and three Ford trucks.

Traveling over rough, irregular trails—leaving those trails to crash through tangled, thorny underbrush—traversing dry, parched areas that had not seen rain in years—the Fords made a remarkable record for stamina and reliable mechanical operation. Through days of summer heat and nights of freezing cold, on occasions when the water supply was almost gone and delay would have been fatal, the Fords went steadily on and on. And, finally, when the long trip was over, they were sold at good prices in the little village of Maun.

Never were sales made under similar conditions. The purchasers knew what the Fords had been through and sought proof of good condition after so many miles of strenuous travel.

So they were driven along the river trail, turned abruptly off into deep sand-beds—extricated without need of help—and subjected to other tests in this land of difficult transportation. Sales were quickly made after such a demonstration.

This is but one of many interesting stories about the ability of the Ford to stand up under the severest driving conditions. The extra demands of long, hard travel reveal the high quality of its materials and extraordinary care in manufacturing. Whether you buy a Ford for a scientific expedition along rough African trails, or for every-day motoring in a busy city, you will develop a very real and definite pride in its stamina and dependability.

For here is a car that needs no coddling—no sparing from the rough places and the hard jobs. An important consideration in its designing was the realization that it would be used by millions of people, in different ways, in every section of the world. So it is made with a reserve of strength and power beyond the needs of the average day.

That is the Ford policy. That is the secret of the long-lived satisfactory performance of the Ford. Every part is built to endure—to give you many thousands of miles of economical, care-free motoring.

MY NEW YORK

BY JAMES ASWELL

Central Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—I did not believe this story until two people, between whom collusion was toc perfect related it to me. The incident was too perfect; a set-up for this space. Here, verified, is the fact:

Pedestrians on upper Fifth Avenue stopped in their tracks the other afternoon and gazed raptly at the sidewalk. From the carved stoop of a swank decorators' shop was issuing in leisurely fashion, a mouse.

The animal moved steadily, without haste, even with a certain jauntiness which perhaps even mice acquire walking in 5th Ave. He (or she) proceeded to the curb, lifted a nose briefly in the direction of uptown traffic which at the moment was halted by the light, and then hopped to the asphalt.

In a straight line, then, the mouse continued on to the middle of the street, where traffic was halted by a bus. When the light changed the journey was continued onto the far sidewalk and straight into another decorator's shop.

Pedestrians, in a little fascinated group, sighed and dispersed.

THE YOUNG IDEA

E. V. Shepard, the bridge expert who still has to be accused of giving misinformation either to his partner or any kibitzer, vouches for this story:

Among his bridge students is the young mother of an exceptionally bright boy still on the right side of his teens. After attending the Shepard bridge classes she went home and practiced on the boy. After some time her son was able to give her a good run at cards, so she added him to the bridge class, and he learned the fine points of the game rapidly.

Returning home unexpectedly one afternoon, she found her son entertaining three boys. They were seated around the card table. The unusual thing was that two of the boys were stark naked, and her son was sitting on their clothes.

"What kind of game do you call this?" she demanded in a tone that carried reprimand and disapproval.

"Why, mother, this is only a nice friendly game of strip-contract," he explained, adding gleefully though unnecessarily: "And I'm winning!"

SOLDIERS OF FORTUNE

With revolutions popular in Cuba and points south, I got to wondering where and for whom our better known Soldiers of Fortune, those intrepid fellows who will fight anyone's war for a consideration, were doing their heroic best. The lineup is a little disappointing, probably due to the fact that the depression has hit the business of scrapping pretty hard. The best offer a good machine gunner could get from the Cuban revolutionists was $50 a week, when and if the money was available.

Alfred Batson, who tells something of what fighting the other fellow's wars is like in "Vagabond's Paradise," couldn't be lured from the comforts of Brooklyn. He's using a "typewriter" all right, but in the strictly peaceful pursuit of writing a novel based on the life of "Shanghai Kate", who would have been a Soldier of Fortune if she hadn't been a woman.

Of Alfred Nogales whom Lowell Thomas is putting between covers as "the greatest" of all these reckless fellows, nothing has been heard for some time. He sailed for Europe, but he's believed to be in, or in the vicinity of, his native Venezuela. There's nothing stirring yet, however.

And Tracy Richardson, the best known of the American "mercenaries", is reported to be in Chile, having taken a hand in the coup that recently sent the president fleeing across the Andes.

Of course, Bert Hall, World war ace, still is in China, flying generals around.

That seems to be the lot. The others are job hunting or in retirement. At least they're not conspicuous by their gunfire.

And speaking of adventurers, tomorrow I start on a European jaunt.

Handicraft Classes Do Excellent Work

Activities At The Girl Scout Camp Are Moving Smoothly

Girl Scout Camp at Camp John M. Phillips on the Slippery Rock, is progressing in a very happy manner, all the girls enjoying the opportunities afforded them for the out door life and the instructions gained in class work of all kinds that is carried on.

On Monday there was a meeting of the camp council. During the handicraft classes, the girls made purses and belts. The dramatic group worked on a play that will be given some time during the week.

Monday evening, each unit had its own campfire. Each patrol in the respective units gave a stunt at the campfires.

Today, the New Castle and Ellwood City Council are spending the afternoon and evening in Camp. Each council will hold a business meeting during the visit. The camp continues to be one of the most successful ever held by the Girl Scouts of the district.

WHITE EAGLE CAPTURED

(International News Service)

PHILIPSBURG, Pa., Aug. 19.—A white eagle, weighing 10 pounds, and with a wing spread of three and a half feet, was captured along a highway west of Cresson by Reno Sacciani of Lilly, recently.

The eagle, first seen in the region in some years, was turned over to J. F. Thompson of Johnstown, game warden for the district.

Wise Parent Aids Tot To Picture School Life As A Happy Experience

Preparing The Youngster Psychologically For First Day As Student Is Essential To His Success

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education
Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

It may be assumed that thoughtful parents have had the child who is to go to school for the first time physically prepared. He has been carefully checked upon by the family physician, and all remedial physical defects taken care of.

There is another preparation essential to the child's school success and mental health - psychological preparation. Normally the child eagerly looks forward to the first day of school. He has been talking about it for days and weeks and months. He has been asking many questions and has built up in his young mind many images of what is going to happen. The event suggests a large step in his development. It tells him he is big like other children.

The wise parent helps this child paint a promising picture of school, and in every reasonable way helps him contract happy, hopeful associations concerning the expected new experiences.

If the child has had a normal play life in the home neighborhood, school promises him more playmates, a bigger playground, and more games and happy times. He has heard about the many things that children do at school. If he is to enter the first grade, he has heard that he will learn to read and wrtie and spell, perhaps and work with numbers. He has seen older children with their books at home, has heard them read, seen them write and has listened with amazement to their accounts of school.

An occasional child, alas! hears somethings concerning school which stir up doubts and fears in him. An older child, desiring to overawe him, has teased him about the bullies at school and has tried to make him believe that the teacher is a kind of ogre. Some parents, too, of the kind who try to frighten children into being good by threatening them with the doctor or policeman, will, when the child annoys them, warn him about to enter school, of the severity of the teacher, falsely picturing her his enemy: "when you go to school you will have to mind; if you disobey your teacher she will make you sorry in a minute."

Some children about to enter school have not had at home a normal play life. Perhaps they have not been allowed to play freely with many other children their size or age. Maybe they have not learned to take their own part, settle their own quarrels, or finish their own fights in self-defense. They may have been forever shielded. If they have played only with older children, these children have protected them or lorded it over them. If they have played only with younger children they have had their own way, and felt no need of standing up in self-defense. In any event they have not learned comfortable, happy social adaptation. Such children are pretty sure to dread the new social contacts the school promises or will discover soon to dread them.

* * *

Also some children about to enter school have never been out of their mother's sight for even a few hours at a time. The weaning process on the first day of school will be a terrible ordeal for both the mother and the child. In the few days left, be it hoped that the mother of such a child will work out a gradual weaning program, so that before the first school day the child will feel wholly comfortable for a whole day in her absence. As for teaching him wholesome habits of play with other children, a few days will not suffice. It will be a matter of education and re-education over months and years. And good luck to the mother and child who must face these problems late.

ABOUT TORNADOES

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

Tornadoes occur in May, June, July and August in the Mississippi valley, any time of year in the southern states. Tornadoes start by a violent local convection (bulging) air current or a vigorous wind eddy, and turn anti-clockwise: are but a few hundred feet in diameter, sometimes 2,000 feet: the air cooled by rapid centrifugal force, a funnel cloud develops. Sometimes a tornado appears to lift. That is when it has temporarily weakened. Tornadoes travel toward the east or southeast. If you see one coming, run for dear life toward the north or northwest. If you can't escape lie flat on the ground. Weather bureau forcasters are not permitted to predict probable tornadoes.

The anti-prohibitionists are advocating modification of the Volstead act as a means of relieving unemployment. While about it we might legalize the manufacture of opium and authorize wide-open gambling. —The Wheeling Intelligencer.

Detroit Airmen To Attempt Hop For Copenhagen

Edwin Preston And Robert Collognon, Land In Canadian Town

PLAN TO FOLLOW CRAMER'S ROUTE

(International News Service)

GODERICH, Ont., Aug. 19.—Edwin Preston and Robert Collignon, Detroit flyers attempting a trail-blazing flight to Copenhagen, were to hop off from this town today for Cochrane, Ont.

They arrived here last night from Detroit, deciding to descend on account of darkness. They had intended to stop at Sudbury, Ont., but were unable to go that far in the first day's flying. Sudbury is 160 miles to the north and Cochrane 375 miles north.

The flyers are planning to follow the route via Greenland on which Parker D. Cramer and Oliver Pacquette, who left Detroit July 27, disappeared off the Norwegian coast last week.

Girl Gets Drunk; Mother Is Held By Pittsburgh Police

Woman Owner Of Small Store Held As Police Find Daughter Drunk

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 19—Mrs. Theresa Marhefka, 35, proprietress of a small store here, was held by police today as the result of the discovery of her 12 year old daughter, Theresa, unconscious in the store from the effects of poisonous moonshine.

Theresa was reported recovering in South Side hospital. She had been left in charge of the store by her mother, police reported. During the mother's absence, the girl and an unidentitfied youth began drinking moonshine, police said.

A policeman passing the store, saw the girl's unconscious form on the floor. The youth had vanished.

Police reported finding a small quantity of moonshine and wine in the store.

Ancient Ford Seen On Streets

Local Man Picks Up One Of The Oldest Models Of Famous Automobile

H. L. Fry, of 509 Newell avenue, has in his possession at the present time, a real relic of the past, as far as automobiles are concerned. It is one of the earliest models of the Ford, a runabout, that was made in 1909 and still runs, the engine working in fine shape.

Fry picked up this car over the line in Ohio and with few exceptions the parts are those originally in this twenty-two year old car. The engine bears No. 9727 and is of the old type with the valves on the outside. There are no oil pans on the engine.

The machine, of course, has to be cranked to be started, but the engine responds in quick order. Thirty by three tires are also used on the machine. The previous owner modernized it to the extent of making a homemade rumble seat on the rear part.

Twenty years ago, the machine was modern and most anybody would have been tickled to own it. Today, well that's another question.

Pangborn and Herndon Victims of Jap Jingoism

Innocent Landing With Camera, Without Permit, Gave Super-Trained Secret Service, Bored by Monotony of Peace, Longed-for Opportunity

HUGH HERNDON, JR. & CLYDE PANGBORN.

W. W. FARLEY

MRS. HUGH HERNDON, JR.

When Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, Jr., American fliers, were first arrested on landing in Japan without a permit, no uneasiness was felt for them. But when the "Jingoes," who are rabidly anti-American, stressed the fact that the fliers flew over fortified areas and used a camera while so doing, the Japanese Secret Service started to build a mighty mountain out of a mole hill. The fliers were charged with making photographs in a prohibited area, as well as with violation of the country's aviation laws. They were each fined $1,025, and it is doubtful if they will be allowed to fly their plane, in which they had hoped to make a non-stop flight from Tokyo to Seattle, out of Japan. The case reveals in startling clarity how very shallow is the doctrine of professed good will that is popularly supposed to be abroad in the world today. Good will is powerful medicine, but it cannot combat suspicion.

Girls going away to school for the first time

Girls going back to school again

Girls staying at home—who want collegiate clothes

Come to our . . . . . .

"College Corner"

. . . . . tomorrow

One entire side of our Fashion Floor has literally been converted into a "College Corner"— a girls' "dorm"!—it is real!— it is thrilling!

The "College Board" consisting of seven college girls from Slippery Rock, Geneva, Westminster, Grove City, Carnegie Tech, Thiel and Allegheny has approved our campus fashions.

These college girls will act as hostesses in "College Corner" tomorrow afternoon from 2:00 until 5:00 P. M. Come in—meet the girl from your own school—she'll tell you all about your classes, get togethers, sports, football games, campus life week ends—and just the right costume for each occasion.

A special collection of smart collegiate fur coats, true aristocrats of the campus, will be presented—among them Leopards and Leopard Cats—the new king of college furs, as well as Raccoons, Pony Coats and swagger Silver Muskrats, priced from $112.50 to $545.

Collegiate apparel bought especially for smart misses (and with an eye to a conservative budget) is being featured.

Coats— Hats—Sport Suits—Dresses—Furs—Accessories—Room Furnishings—Luggage.

Three budget outfits have been assembled at $48, $98 and $198—which may be seen the balance of this week in our show windows.

Flora Harmon won the 1930 contest, Edna Cookson the 1929; both are of Grove City.

JUDGE DEFIES GANGS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK.—Although he has been the recipient of two threatening letters and a rock has been hurled through his door, Police Justice Henry Peri, of Island Park, N. Y., continues his duties with little fear of gangsters. Without police protection, the judge and his family perform their usual routine of life, but he insists New York gunmen cannot make a hangout of his community. "I'll raid every speakeasy in the town and charge them with violation of the public nuisance act before the Grand Jury," Judge Peri says. "It's the only thing to do."

News Of The World As Told In Pictures

A Prisoner Where He Hoped to Rule

Captured in Pina Del Rio Province by Federal troops, General Mario G. Menocal, former President of Cuba who headed the insurrectionists in the current revolt, is shown above (bearded) with his son, Raoul, as they arrived under guard in Havana. The former President looked very much the worse for wear, but carried himself with the air of a conquerer rather than that of a defeated rebel. Menocal and his son have been lodged in the Cabana Fortress, at Havana, to await trial.

Page Lohengrin

Miss Rebecca Hamlin, 25-year-old daughter of the Rev. C. R. Hamlin, of New Jersey, is soon to become the bride of Donald Thorn Farley, prominent oil man of New York. While at Mount Holyoke College, where this photo was made, Miss Hamlin was selected as the most perfect girl in the school. The groom to be is a native of Newton, Mass.

Lohengrin and Jazz

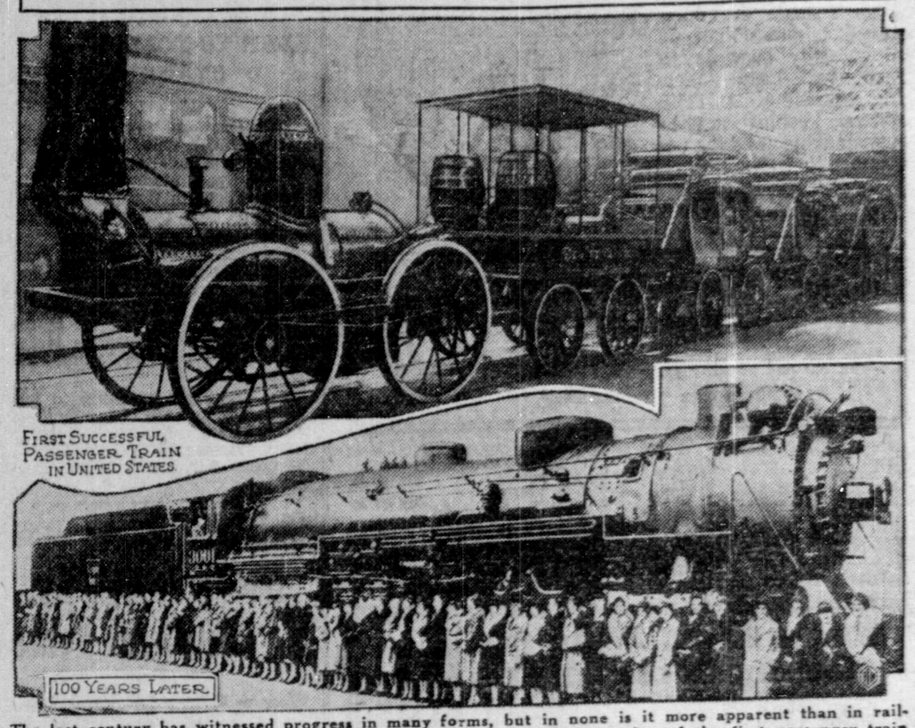

It's quite a change for the man who made jazz a national institution to parade to the stately measure of the wedding march, but that's what happened to Paul Whiteman, orchestra leader, called "King of Jazz." Whiteman is shown above with his bride, the former Margaret Livingstone, film star, after their marriage at Whiteman's home in Denver, Col.

Anniversary of De Witt Clinton Engine Brings Progress to Mind

* * * * * * * * *

It Was in August, 1831, That History Was Made in American Railroading, When the First Successful Operation of a Passenger Train Was Witnessed.

The last century has witnessed progress in many forms, but in none is it more apparent than in railroading. August brings the 100th anniversary of the successful operation of the first passenger train in the United States. The famed De Witt Clinton, "Iron Horse" of 1831 transportation, wrote a page of unforgetable history when it pulled a tender and three flimsy coaches from Albany, N. Y. to Schenectady, 17 miles, and thus completed the initial successful run. Present day locomotives so over-shadow the small, but sturdy De Witt Clinton that comparison is almost ludicrous, but the early day engine did its duty nobly and led the way to developments which were as unseen for the future in those days as oncoming improvements are difficult to foresee now.

Killed by Shock in Wine Pool

A view of the basement in the Milwaukee, Wis., home of Mrs. Helen Vasilzevic (insert), 39, in which the woman died when electricity was conducted through a loose wire by means of a pool of wine in the cellar floor. The wine had been dumped by prohibition agent when they raided the house. Going to the cellar to clean up the spilled wine and touching a defective light left burning by the agents, Mrs. Vasilzevic was killed by a 220-volt shock through her body.

Refuses to Quit

District Judge J B. Price of Bastrop, Tex., undergoes impeachment trial as a result of his refusal to resign. He is accused of negligence and carelessness in approving sheriff's fees and mileage accounts.

Rosenwald Accused of Bribe

Illinois political circles have been deeply stirred by an open letter written by Frank L. Smith (right), a banker, of Dwight, Ill., in which he accuses Julius Rosenwald (left), noted philanthropist and head of Sears, Roebuck & Co., Chicago, of offering him 10,000 shares of the concern's stock in 1926 if he (Smith) would withdraw from his race for the U. S. Senate. Smith was elected and refused admittance to the Senate on a charge of excessive campaign expenditures. Rosenwald, ill, has not been told of Smith's accusation, his family says. The stock which Smith alleges he was offered was worth $500,000 at the time.

"Queen Oceana"

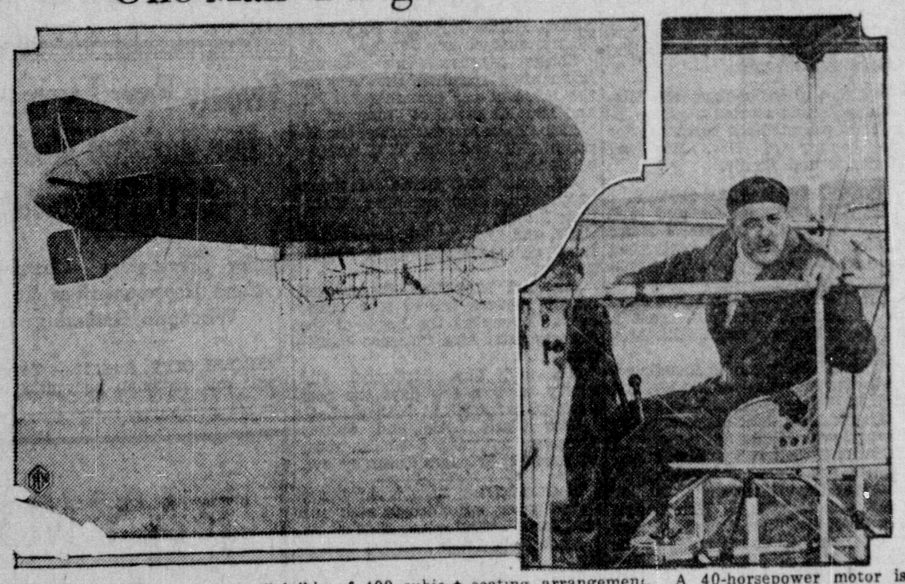

Katherine Coates, a comely student at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, is shown with her crown and regal robes as she reigned over the Wildwood, N. J., baby carnival as "Queen Oceana." The gracious and beautiful queen had as her "subjects" the participants in the twenty-third annual baby parade on the boardwalk of the seaside city.

Bolivian Minister

Diplomatic circles, in Washington, are welcoming to their midst Luis O. Abelli, new minister from Bolivia. His wife is the former Crystal Hyland of California.

One-Man Dirigible Does Its Stuff

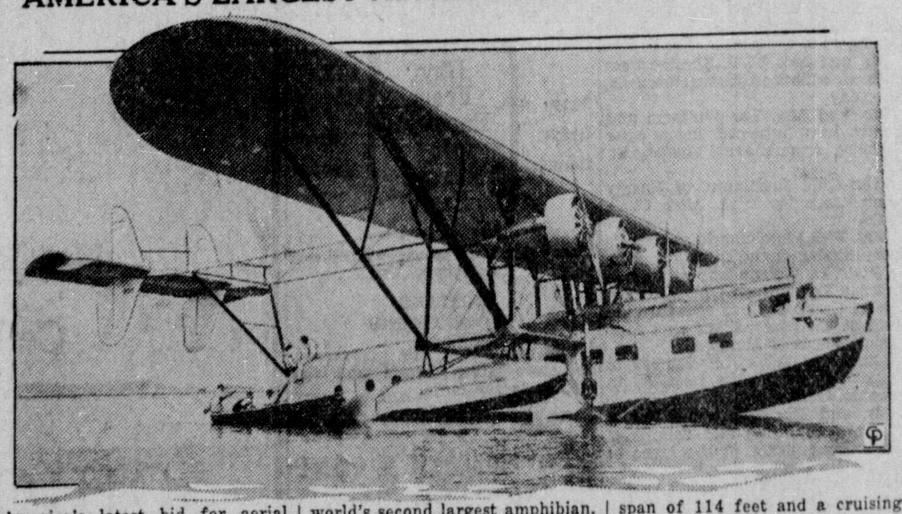

The "Helicosta," a one-man dirigible of 400 cubic meters capacity, capable of maneuvering in any direction, either forward, backward or sideways, is shown in full flight (left) over the airfield at Orly, France, (near Paris). A skeleton construction underneath the gas bag contains the motive power and seating arrangement. A 40-horsepower motor is the dirigible's only motive power and its pilot can control the landing of the ship so well that it can be set down on a handkerchief placed on the field. Or so says M. Oechichen (shown at right seated at controls), who developed the "Helicosta."

Oh! And in Boston, Too!

Boston, scene of the famous tea party with England, appears to be staging a "party" with the mandates of the Volsteadian era in this portrayal of what was popular in bygone days. A real "bar," German style, has been set up in the lobby of the Fine Arts theatre, Boston, for patrons only. The drinks aren't really pre-Volstead. Fraulein Lillian Heckman is the pretty barmaid while Ernest Siemailler orders a drink in German costume

AMERICA'S LARGEST AMPHIBIAN TAKES TO WATER

America's latest bid for aerial supremacy is the Sikorsky S-40, Uncle Sam's largest and the world's second largest amphibian, built after months of secret planning. It is 73 feet long, has a wing span of 114 feet and a cruising speed of 115 miles an hour. It is seen off Bridgeport, Conn.

Army's Mt. Shasta Bombing Fiasco Tickled "Not-So-Obsolete" Navy

* * * * * * * * *

Naval Authorities Had Laugh on Advocates of Large Air Armada, Who Would Scrap Battleships as Out-of-Date, When Army Bombers Failed to Sink Crippled Transport Off Virginia Capes.

When the theory of our foremost air experts, among them General William Mitchell, former Assistant Chief of the Air Service, that a battleship hadn't a chance when attacked by a bombing plane, was recently tested off the Virginia Capes, score one was chalked up for the Navy. After considerable trouble, the old army transport, Mt. Shasta, which was to be the target in the test, was located by the bombing squadron from Langley Field. The big planes dropped their load of 300-pound bombs and, although they made two direct hits on the ship, she remained afloat and the planes were compelled to fly back to their base leaving her in undisputed possession of the battleground. The condemned ship was sunk next day by a Coast Guard cutter which serenely sailed up to her and banged a few 100- pound shells into her hull.

Inmates of the state penitentiary at Jackson, Mich., are proud of their new chapel, which they built and for which they also raised funds for decorations. The chapel, below, also is used for social purposes. Other photos show, upper left, the baseball diamond; upper right, plan of the entire prison and the bullpen. Prisoners participated in the dedication of the chapel.

Lake Erie Force Comes Saturday

Road's Agents' Association Cornroast Festival May Draw 200

STAGE BEING SET AT SUMMER CAMP

Plans for a gala cornroast affair to be staged by the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Agent's association at Camp Yohe-Campbell railroad Y. M. C. A. camp situated along the Slippery Rock creek about 11 miles east of the city, on Saturday, August 22, were announced by W. A. Stone, freight agent here, today.

Stone estimated the outing of the ticket and freight agents and their families from all over the line will bring a throng of nearly 200 here.

Complete arrangements are being perfected for an enjoyable outing of the railroad force, with a variety of sports and entertainment planned to occupy the time. Bridge games will interest the ladies while mushball, horseshoes and other recreation will attract the attention of the men.

While no special train is being operated here, the host of picnickers will come here by train and motor car to be escorted to the camp by local Lake Erie men. Mr. Stone heads the local committee on transportation.

The Agent's association membership of the P. and L. E. embraces those in both the passenger and freight departments.

Camp Yohe-Campbell is not far distant from Elliott's Mills. It is owned and operated by the Lake Erie Y. M. C. A. at Campbell, O.

Kiwanis To Have Community Picnic

Plans Revealed At Regular Meeting Of Club Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 19.—J. J. McLaughlin of the Community Savings and Loan company of this city was in charge of the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club last night in the Trinity Lutheran church. After giving an interesting account of his trip to Texas in which he visited many interesting points it was revealed that the Kiwanis Club of Ellwood City will sponsor a community picnic on August 26. The affair will be held on the recently acquired land for the Boy Scouts from the Runyan family.

On this day the Runyan land will be publically dedicated. A program of sports, swimming, addresses, and a fine supper will draw great throngs. There will probably be some out-of-town speakers. Many will bring baskets for an all day outing. Further plans on the affair will be revealed later.

Mr. McLaughlin told of visiting a large cavern in New Mexico while there. Earle B. Yahn and Morris Phelps were special guests on the occasion.

Caddies Here Have Interesting Time

Caddy Championship Tourney To Be Staged This Afternoon

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 19.—The caddies at the Ellwood City Country Club are having a grand time. Besides having many interesting matches at home between themselves, some fine competition is arranged for them with caddies of other cities. In the inter-city contest they have only lost one match.

Now, under the direction of Fred Loeffler, country club pro, a caddy championship tourney was started this afternoon with 16 qualifiers anxious to snatch the honors from each other. Bill Manuzzi is the defending champion but his title isn't secure with such competitioin as Frank Lasso, Alex Vetica, and Mitt Macioge may give.

45th Anniversary To Be Celebrated

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 19.— The members of the P. H. C. of this city held their regular meeting in the Schweiger Hall last night where temporary plans for their 45th anniversary were made. The date for the grand celebration has been set for October 6.

The P. H. C. was organized in Sharon a number of years ago and has been a successful organization in the country. The local lodge is trying to obtain several out-of-town speakers for the occasion. A card party on September will inaugurate the anniversary program. Further plans of the society will be revealed later.

ZELIENOPLE

Farmers Injured At Zelienople

ZELIENOPLE, Pa., Aug. 19—Fred Moyer and Frank Moyer, farmers of Lancaster Township, were injured Tuesday morning on the Perry Highway, near the home of Fred, the older man. The Moyers reside in the neighborhood of Middle Lancaster and Tuesday morning had gone for a load of coal for Fred. They returned from the bank with the coal, and were ready to turn in the driveway of the home, off the Perry highway, when the wagon was struck by a machine, being driven by a woman, coming down the Perry Highway, toward Harmony. The accident occurred two miles from Harmony. Fred Moyer is about 70 years of age, and his partner is about 65. Both were badly injured, being bruised and cut about the face and head, and were taken to the Butler hospital for an X-ray to determine the exact extent of the injuries.

The men are neighbors, but are not related, Frank living alone near Middle Lancaster. The wagon was badly broken, and the horses were slightly injured by the crash. The driver of the machine and her companion were held by Constable Thos. A. Quigley for careless driving, and were taken to Butler.

Many accidents have happened in this vicinity in the past few days, Harmony and that vicinity being a mecca for accidents. In many cases those injured are not local people, although some local people have been injured, also. Both men injured at this time have been residents of the Middle Lancaster district and are well known here and have many relatives. The accident occurred shortly before noon Tuesday.

IN CANADA

Dr. A. E. Whittaker of Grandview avenue, and his father, H. W. Whittaker of Ellwood City are in Canada, spending a two weeks vacation. The trip is made each year by Dr. Whittaker and his father, both being members of the Zelienople Fishing club, who visit French Creek on a fishing trip each year.

AT ROUNDHEAD REUNION

J. N. Kirker of 526 New Castle street, went to New Castle Wednesday morning to attend the annual reunion of the Roundhead Regiment held there, he being a member of Company C. Mr. Kirker attends the reunion each year, held in the Central Presbyterian church, known as Old White Hall in Civil war days.

Mr. Kirker served a year and five months in Company C of that regiment, and is one of the few survivors of the regiment, and perhaps the only survivor of Company C. He is the only member of Company C who has been present at the reunion for number of years, the only other survivor residing in the west, there being only one or two.

If You Should Move---What?

If you should move to another city and apply for credit, what do you suppose would happen?

Within one hour or less time your record—the record you made in New Castle—would be as an open book to the merchants of your new home city. In self defense, and as a protection for the honest buyer, the credit men of the United States have so perfected their organization that there is no point, however small, which cannot avail itself of every facility for knowing who and what you are.

The merchant does not make your credit rating. That is one thing you alone can control.

The merchants of this community expect the payment of your accounts in full by the tenth of the month following date of purchase. If you cannot pay your bills in full, at least go to your merchant and make some arrangement that is satisfactory to him. Whether you be rich or poor, credit is your greatest asset.

McGraw Building Team For 1932 Is Going After Flag

John McGraw Abandons 1931 Team And Starts Thinking About Next Season

STONEHAM WILL SPEND MONEY

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Like a man who walks out on a play that does not strike his fancy, Manager John McGraw of the New York Giants has deserted his team in the 1931 baseball race and is busy trying to do something about 1932.

It was learned today Charles A. Stoneham has dug down in his sock and produced some $250,000 to buy players and McGraw and Chief Bender, the Giants' scout, have been going up and down the land looking for first-class ivory.

Purchase of Leonard Koenecke for $75,000 from Indianapolis was said to be only the starter of the planned shake-up of the Giants and next year it is doubtful if a single 1930 outfielder will be among those present. Melvin Ott may survive if he's lucky.

Cubs Defeated

The Giants were in third place today, close on the heels of the second-place Chicago Cubs, who finally got tripped by the Boston Braves, 3 to 2. A double by Maranville, an error by Catcher Hartnett basketing Richbourg's bunt and a single by Worthington in the ninth accounted for the Braves' triumph. Frankhouse set down the Cubs with five hits.

Chuck Klein hit two home runs and Paul Waner grabbed five hits as the Pirates massacred three Philadelphia hurlers, winning 14 to 5. Spencer was the winning pitcher.

The New York Yankees celebrated Lou Gehrig's 1000th consecutive game by promptly falling down before the Detroit Tigers, 5 to 4. Bridges, Tiger relief hurler, whacked a single to start the eleventh inning and trusty Charlie Gehringer took careful aim and spun a pretty single that the won the contest.

Dick Coffman was the only winning St. Louis Brownie hurler in the four-game series with the Washington Senators. He gave the Senators nine hits and his success came when Ralph Kress hit a double with two men on in the third inning. The score was St. Louis, 4, Washington 2.

Other clubs were idle.

Shenango Plays W. Pittsburg Nine

Four Contests Carded In Lawrence County League Tonight

Providing rain does not halt the four Lawrence County league games carded for tonight, fans will witness some fast encounters. The Scarazzos who are tied for the leadership of the circuit meet Bessemer at Centennial field while the Shenango Pottery team who is also deadlocked for the top berth will oppose the West Pittsburg nine at West Pittsburg.

The Shenango team has been playing championship like baseball was demonstrated last Saturday when it came back to trim the Scarazzos. The Scarazzos will have their hands full against Bessemer. In the other two games on the card, North Highland plays at Wampum while The Universal Sanitary team meets Brent at Brent.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Johnny Banko, local junior lightweight, is ready to go into action and when the next fistic carnival is held here it is probable he will be among the fighters. Banko underwent an appendix operation months ago but is said to have fully recuperated and is now in training.

Eddie Baker, former quarterback of the University of Pittsburgh football team, has signed to play the remainder of the season with the Fairmont club of the Mid-Atlantic league. He will assist Coach Sutherland this fall when Pitt grid activities start.

Howard Hoffman Groskloss, Pirate, and former Amherst football star, who has been out of the Pittsburgh lineup on account of an injured knee, has left the team and is undergoing treatment at Pittsburgh.

HIT DOWN ON PUTT - Roy Grove

NUMBER 59

When you are putting you are scoring.

Getting off the tee may be one of the most important shots in golf, but when the 18-inch putts decide a championship, you know the stroke on the green overshadows the drive.

George Von Elm missed half a dozen of these putts and shorter ones in the play-off with Billy Burke for the national open. It was Von Elm and these short putts that decided the richest crown in golf and not the superb golf of Burke.

Had Von Elm made any one of these short putts the match would never have gone to extra rounds.

There is a certain amount of tension connected to an important putt which kicks the putt to the right or pulls it to the left.

The way to avoid this is by playing the ball back a bit and hitting down on the ball. This method keeps the ball in a straight line.

It is well to go for one of these putts rather than try to "baby" it along. It may never reach the cup if stroked in a gentle manner.

The most successful of modern day putters follow the system of MacDonald Smith, on the backstroke.

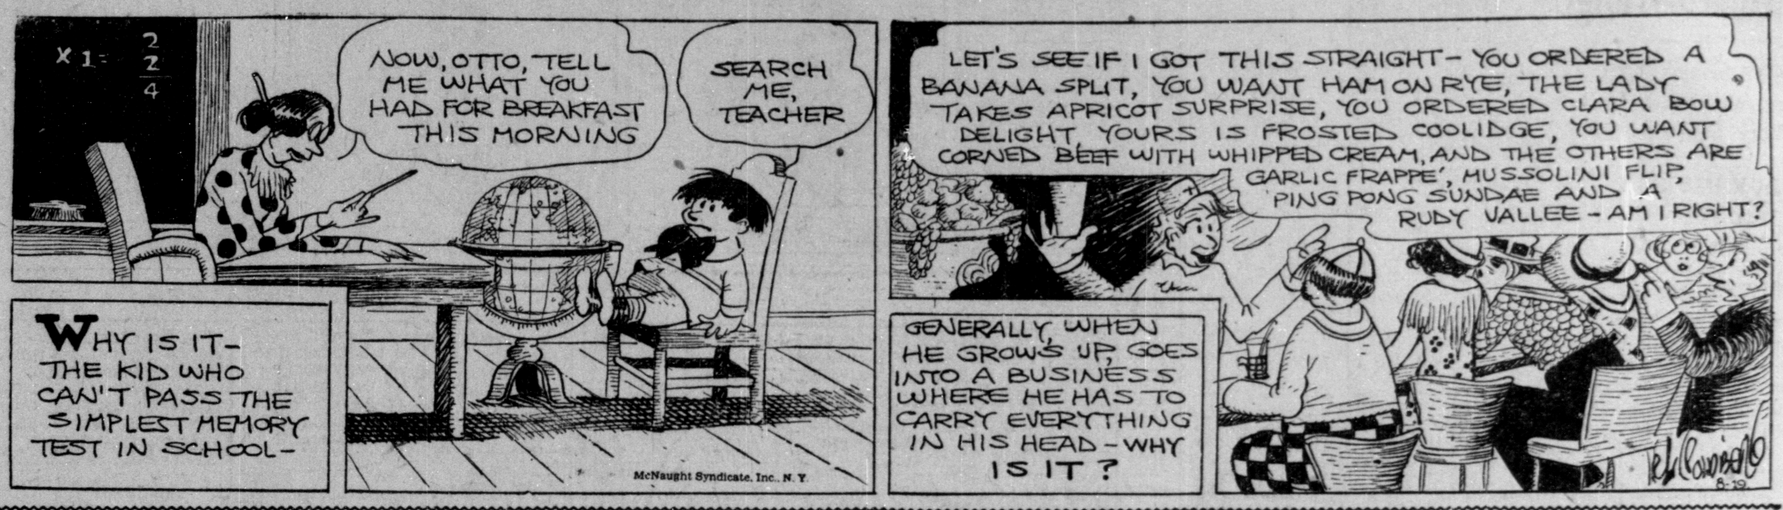

Copyright, 1931, by Central Press Association, Inc.

Smith hesitates a bit on the backswing and never looks up until he hears the ball drop.

Three and five-foot putts are the toughest in golf, and it is a strain to keep from watching an important putt on its way for a win or a birdie. Never look up.

Local Tennis Tourney Gets Under Way On Wednesday

Sixteen Matches Played First Day Of City-Wide Tennis Tourney

Upsets Feature Matches—Rain Fails To Dampen Arden Of Racqueteers

The second annual city-wide tennis tournament got under way yesterday with sixteen matches being played. The matches were played at Boyles Field courts and George Washington Junior High courts. Garvin was in charge at Boyles, and Levine at Washington.

Several upsets featured the matches on the opening day. Perry Reeher won from Dave Ritchie, a youth who had been picked to advance to the semi-finals in the Junior tourney. Reeher won a close victory 8-6, and 6-2. Ray Must, Junior champion last year won his match with Bill Long with ease in 6-0, 6-0.

McFate Wins

There were but two Senior matches played Attorney Joe McFate defeating Bill Halley 6-1, 6-0. Dess defeated Ed Lewis 6-3, 7-5.

The interest in the tourney this year brought out large crowds to watch the matches. The Boyles Field courts were crowded, and so were the Washington courts. The players are taking a keen interest and some stirring matches will no doubt be played before the tourney drawns to a close.

Several matches scheduled for last night were postponed due to the rain.

The results of the first-day matches:

Seniors

Joe McFate defeated Bill Halley, 6-1, 6-0.
Dess defeated Ed. Lewis, 6-3, 7-5.

Juniors

Ray Must defeated Bill Long, 6-0, 6-0.
A. Perelman defeated M. Jones, 6-0, 6-4.
Nigro defeated Bloom, 6-2, 6-1.
Mackie defeated Levine, 6-1, 0-6, 6-4.
Viggiano defeated Aldridge, 6-1, 6-3.
P. Reeher defeated D. Ritchie, 8-6, 6-2.
Ginsberg defeated Semler, 6-1, 6-4.

Midgets

Boston defeated Denny, 6-2, 9-7.
Pascarella defeated Horchler, 7-5, 6-4.
Vic Ross defeated D. Updegraff, 6-1, 6-4.
McGarry defeated H. Hannon, 6-4, 6-4.
H. Updegraff defeated Bechtol, 6-2, 6-4.
Levine defeated N. Seeger, 6-4, 5-7, 4-6.
D. Lerner defeated D. Garvin, 6-3, 0-6, 9-7.

Princeton Nine Downs Grant City

Proving too much for their opponents the Princeton baseball team took a 13-1 triumph over Grant City on Tuesday night on the Princeton field.

B. Jones pitched hitless ball for five innings. Rodgers was touched for 10 hits. S. Houk and B. Jones were the heavy stickers for the winners.

The score by innings:

Grant City	100 00— 1
Princeton	531 4*—13

Batteries—Grant City, Rodgers and Stewart; Princeton, B. Jones and V. Shaffer.

Shenango Pottery To Play At Hillsville

The Shenango Pottery will play a postponed league game at Hillsville at 6:30 o'clock on Thursday night, it was announced by Carm Sacco of the Pottery team today. This is a Lawrence county league contest.

American tourists spent almost a billion dollars abroad in 1930, according to Dr. Julius Klein of the Department of Commerce.

Some Form!

It isn't hard to believe that if Mrs. John L. De Ruyter makes a putt here and a putt there on miniature golf courses the popularity of this form of amusement will receive marked impetus. She's shown enjoying the diversion supplied at an exclusive Long Island club.

Marcellas Trim Rose Maries 17-2

The Marcellas mushball team took a 17 to 2 victory over the Rose Maries in a Class B mushball game at Lehigh Field last night. The Marcellas have won eight and lost two in the league this year. Bob Pascarella one of the best pitchers in the City mushball league held the Rose Maries to six hits and fanned nine men. Tip Richards, Tex Richards, and Turco were the stars for the Marcellas. Farone was the best for the Rose Maries. Isabella, Turco and Pascarella had homers for the winners.

The box score:

Rose Maries	R.	H.	E.

Church League Ends Mushball Games In Tilt This Evening

Successful Season, In Which 180 Games Were Played, Closes Schedule

One of the most successful seasons of church team participation in organized athletics ends this evening when the city church mushball league schedule is closed. The final game, to be played this evening at Gaston park, will be a game between St. Vitus and the Central Christians.

Henry T. MacNichols, Y. M. C. A. physical director, who is responsible for the success of the 10 church teams, declares that the season has been fruitful and some excellent playing was done on the local fields where the teams met. Since the start of the church games on May 10 the teams played 180 games.

It marks the first season that the churches have had mushball teams since the discontinuance of baseball by the church league.

Hillsville Pirates Defeat Wampum 6-3

The Hillsville Pirates defeated the Wampum All Stars 6 to 3 in a baseball game at Hillsville last night. Genova on the mound for the Pirates allowed the Wampumites but four hits and fanned nine men. The game was interesting and well played.

Soda Jerkers Defeat Elders

Soda Jerkers nine defeated the Elder A. C. nine Tuesday night on the Elder field. The score was 3-1.

Krupa, on the mound for the winners, held the Elders to three hits, while his team garnered six from the offerings of J. Quinn. W. Soho, with two hits, was the outstanding performer for the Jerkers. Houk was the best for the losers.

Marshalls Play North Highland

Benefit Game For Frank Conway Will Be Played On Thursday Night

A big crowd is expected to hie its way to North Highland field on Thursday night when the Marshall nine and the North Highland aggregation of the Lawrence County league meet in a benefit game for Frank Conway, who recently became paralyzed.

The game starts at 6:30 o'clock.

GRAYS-GRANZIANI

Tonight the Graziani nine will battle the New Castle Grays on the Lehigh field at 6:30 o'clock. The Graziani would like to book some fast games with all leading teams in the city. Call 4480M and ask for Fred for games.

Try This One at Home

If you feel that, as a novice, you'd land in the hospital after trying such a back jack-knife as this beautiful one, maybe you'd better not try it, after all. You probably have small chance, anyway, of equaling the grace of Dick Degener, former University of Michigan diver, as he practices for the forthcoming 1932 Olympic Game tryouts. If Dick's as consistently good as this dive would indicate, he'll be among the springboard artists upholding U. S. laurels.

Athletics Feature City Playgrounds

Annual Tennis Tournament Begins On Two 'Muny' Courts

The final week of the municipal playgrounds will be marked by an unusual number of activities at the various centers. Group games, picnics and field meets will be the most popular events. The baseball tea from Gaston park met the Ellwood City champions yesterday at Ellwood and a return game will be played here on Wednesday. This marks the first of the inter-city activities with our neighboring city. It is expected that a large crowd will accompany the team.

Mushball has been an outstanding sport at the Rose Avenue playground; the team having lost but one game this season. Practically every day of the final week will see a mushball game at this popular center. The second season at Rose avenue has seen the attendance more than triple itself.

Tennis, baseball and picnics have been booked at the West Side center; not to mention the popularity of the wading pool with the younger children. The West Side Tigers under playground supervision have piled up an enviable record on the diamond this summer and have games booked every day for the remainder of the season.

Croton goes in strong for volley ball and baseball and the teams developed there are unusually strong. Today they meet McCleary avenue in a sectional game of baseball.

Again the palm goes to baseball in that it is also the most popular sport at the Franklin playground. Here, not one team exists, but three made up of boys of various sizes and ages. This ground also supports a girls' mushball team.

McCleary avenue is ever popular for its baseball and volley ball. Contests in both sports have been booked for the week. Although the bathing beach located here is not under municipal supervision, it never lacked for swimmers any time this summer.

McGill is the ideal spot for the younger children in the district. Horseshoe pitching and volleyball appear to overwhelm all other activities. Appropriate programs have been arranged for the final week at this spot.

Play begins today in the second annual tennis tournament on the municipal courts located at Boyles field and the George Washington school.

Green Hills Trim Boyles Tennis Team

By a score of 3-2 the Green Hills tennis team defeated the Boyles avenue representatives on Tuesday night on the Boyles avenue courts. The match proved interesting throughout.

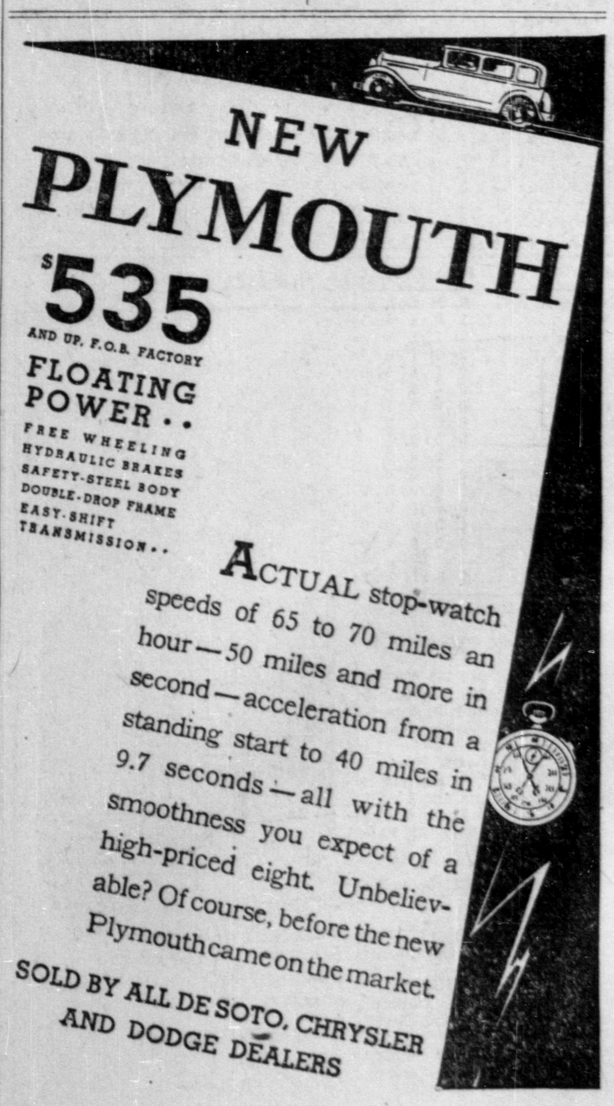

In the opening set Oscar Riley took the measure of Albert Perelman by scores of 6-1 and 6-2. John Riley also of the hills team triumphed over Billy Holly by scores, 6-3, 6-2. In the third match Homer Rosser won from Dave Ritchie by 6-4, 6-3 scores.

In the doubles the Boyles avenue team made a clean sweep of the two matches. Albert Perelman and Allen Garvin defeated Andy Anderson and Bob Stone by 6-4, 6-4 scores while in the last doubles Charles and Albert Perelman won over Oscar Riley and Ray Frampton by scores of 6-3 and 7-5.

Ryantown Meets Ramseys Tonight

Tonight on the Ryantown field the Ryantown nine will meet the Ramseys at 6:30 o'clock. The Ryantown aggregation holds one triumph over this team and hopes to make it two straights.

The Ramseys will be out to avenge for the last setback. A fast game is anticipated.

Canzoneri-Berg Bout Arranged

Tony Canzoneri And Jack Berg, Will Battle In New York September 10

LONDON GIVEN COLD SHOULDER

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The Tony Canzoneri-Jack (Kid) Berg lightweight championship bout, one of the plums of the waning outdoor season, reposed today in the lap of the Madison Square Garden Corporation.

After the match had practically been delivered to Jeff Dickson for the White City arena near London on September 14, it suddenly came back to the United States yesterday when the managers of the rival gladiators, "leery" of fighting for a promotor abroad, decided to let the Garden stage the fifteen-round championship tilt at the Polo grounds here on Sept. 10th.

The managers of Berg, who is the idol of the White chapel district of London, favored the British Capital as the site of the bout but had to field to the Canzoneri contingent. Canzoneri had been guaranteed the tidy sum of $50,000, win, lose or draw, for the eleventh hour, however, it was discovered that the sum of $20,000 would be confiscated by the British government as an English war tax, which exacts forty per cent of the earnings of foreign boxers.

Financial Faux Pas

The idea of shelling out twenty grand to any government, much less the British treasury, was distatsteful to the champion's handlers. But boxing men, nevertheless, agreed today that Tony's manager, Sammy Goldman had made a financial faux pas in switching the bout to New York.

The scale of prices for the bout here is fixed at one to five dollars, the lowest for a championship bout in many years. It is estimated that the bout will draw between $50,000 and $60,000, net. Canzoneri's share will be approximately $20,000. He would have received $30,000 in London, even after donating $20,000 to John Bull's exchequer.

Pittsburgh Pirates Make Merry With Phillies—Paul Waner And Klein Star

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—The Pittsburgh Pirates annexed a 14 to 5 victory over the Phillies here yesterday afternoon, with Spencer hurling a fine eight-hit game, and Paul Waner, Traynor, Piet and Phillips doing a lot of heavy batting.

The Phillies could not hit Spencer when hits meant runs. Chuck Klein was the only Philly player to solve Spencer effectively, and the former Three-Eye League star had a pair of home runs.

Another golden goose of sport—this one even before it has time to lay the fabled 14-karat egg—is in danger of joining the list of slain, if dispatches from sunny Florida are read aright.

Up to the latest bulletin from the Floridian front no less than a dozen hoss race tracks and some score of perambulating puppy courses are being plotted for the vacation state.

This, because the Florida state legislature has legalized the parimutuel system of betting.

* * *

Florida's solons, when they okehed the wagering measure undoubtedly thought they were but giving their state a chance to offer attractive entertainment to prospective vacationing visitors in the form of a few horse and dog wheels. But they reckoned without the great god Greed, one of the major deities in the sport pantheon.

Applications from prospective promoters have poured in and, unless the state racing commission lays down some sort of rule regulating the number of tracks which may operate, the state will be overburdened with race meetings, wagering may go beyond reason and the tracks will kill each other off.

Such a plight may raise a hue and cry (wherever there's a hue there is always a cry—don't ask us why) against the sport which may lead to it being again killed, and racing in Florida finding itself once more outside the gate marked "No Admittance."

* * *

This department is no friend of any sport trust, but it cannot see why four or five tracks wouldn't be enough for Florida. Not even New York state could support a dozen hoss tracks with several operating concurrently as would be the case in Florida. And that's not counting the dog wheels.

Hialeah at Miami and St. John's park, the Jacksonville-St. Augustine plant, are already established, and Colonel Matt Winn of Kentucky and Illinois racing fame, is directing plans for construction of a $2,000,000 track at Miami Beach. These and several others, with a few dog tracks, should be ample for Florida's needs.

But that's not the way Greed figures. Greed—which once killed boxing and wounded baseball nigh unto death—never uses reason.

Yankees Will Play Williams

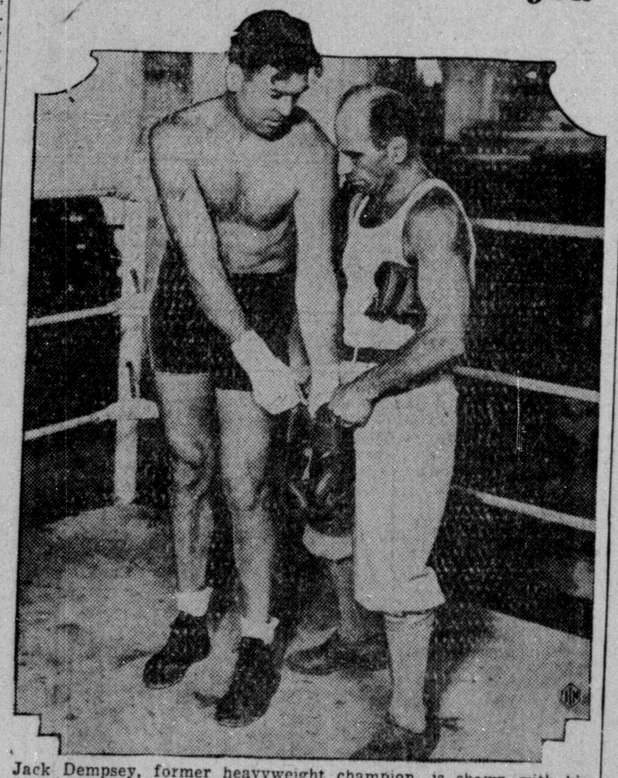

Tonight at Taggart field the Young Yankees will oppose the Williams All Stars mushball team. The game starts at 6:30 o'clock fast time.

To date the Yankees have lost but two tilts. The Young Yankees hope to extend their winning streak by toppling the south siders. The Williams, fresh from defeat of the Marcellas, feel confident of trimming the Yankees. A fast game is anticipated.

Washington was first inaugurated President at Federal Hall, a site now occupied by the Sub-Treasury in Wall Street in New York City.

But if there were no Congressmen, how would you know what degree of intelligence appeals to people in different States?

An Old Pal Back on Job

Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, is shown with his faithful trainer of many years, Jerry Luvadis, at Dempsey's training camp at Reno, Nevada, where Jack is getting back into shape, evidently for a comeback. It was little Jerry (the Greek) who gave Dempsey orders in his championship days, and it's Jerry who is again bossing the big fellow. Dempsey always has been the champ to Jerry.

Mushball Notes

The Oak A. C. mushball team topped the Second U. P. team 10 to 2 in a game last night at Castle Field. The Second U. P. team had but three hits off Zazzerino who also fanned six men. Lyytinen, Hilton and Ross had home runs.

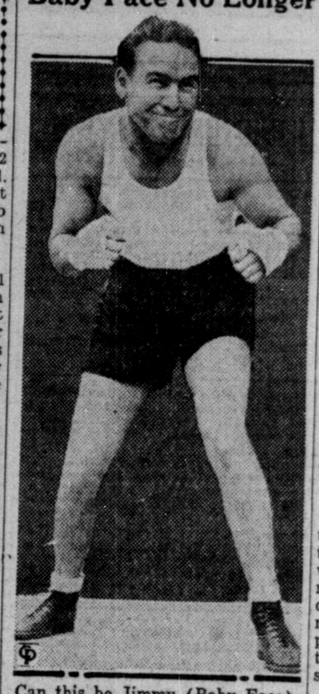

The Citizens Lumber mushball team handed the Pump Station team a 11 to 8 setback last night at Castle Field. Snow on the hill for the Lumbers allowed but eight hits and had fourteen strikeouts. Snow also featured the game with a home run drive.

The Pierce and Bartch team of the Class B mushball league took a forfeit game from the Citizen's Lumber team, when the latter team failed to show up for a scheduled league game at Washington Field.

Marcella Midgets defeated the Keystones Midgets in a hard fought mushball contest at the Carnegie field by the score of 7-6. Guy Bullano hit for a four bagger. Carvella smacked one for a triple. Habib hit for a double. Scungio and Bullano were the heavy hitters for the Marcellas. Habib and Gallagher hit heavy for the losers.

The News Slugs took a forfeit game from the P. & O. Electrics at Washington field last night. The Electrics failed to show up for a scheduled class B league encounter.

Scarazzos To Play Bessemer Tonight

Strong Bessemer Team Comes To Centennial Field Tonight For County League Tilt

With the County League race in a deadlock the strong Bessemer baseball team will come to Centennial Field tonight to try to dislodge the Scarazzos from the Siamese tie with the Shenango Pottery at 6:30 daylight savings time.

The battle tonight will be a hard fought contest. Bessemer lost to the Scarazzos on their home field in the last meeting by one run. Synder was on the mound for the Bessemerites. He allowed the Scarazzos only six hits. A victory for Bessemer will give the Pottery an undisputed claim to the Lawrence County League Championship for the second half.

Manager Alec Black is going to do the Bessemer heavy hitters. Several hurlers are ready for action. Paul Coates who has not worked a County league contest for sometime may be used. George Byak, Johnny Shields, "Fiz" Rodenbaugh and "Jewie" Coen are ready for mound duty.

Scarazzos are not going to let the the County League honors for the second half go by without putting a fight against the Bessemer team. Every player on the Scarazzo roster is pitched for a hard contest. The Lawrence County fans that want to see a "natural" should be on hand at Centennial Field tonight.

Young Yankees Beat Atlantic

Playing a good brand of mushball throughout, the Young Yankees nosed out the Atlantic A. C. team on Tuesday on Taggart field. The score was 9-8.

The feature of the game was a homer by Nick Uram of the Atlantic team. Pezone with four hits was the outstanding performer for the Yankees, while Turk, Babovsky and N. Uram were the best for the losers.

The score by innings:

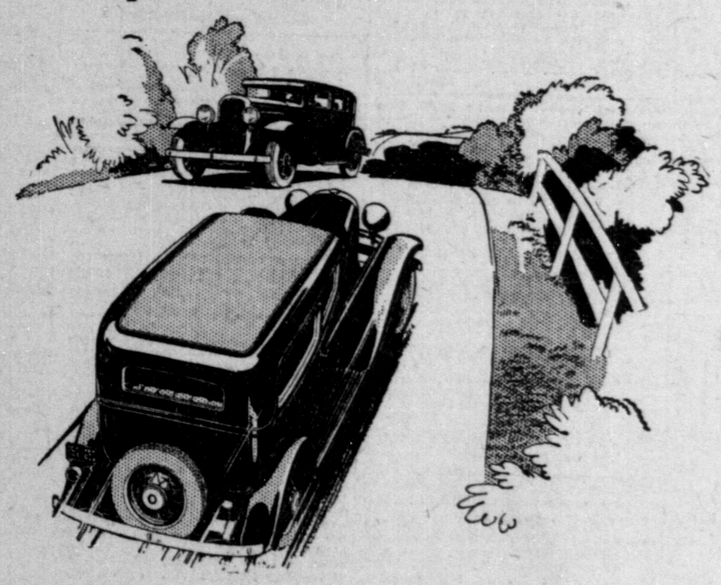

Atlantic A. C. .....113 003 000—8
Yankees .....120 400 20*—9

Batteries—Atlantic, N. Uram and Hnat; Yankees, Fortune and F. Merando.

SO ★SMOOTH★
SO QUIET—
You almost doubt the Speedometer—

When you take your first ride in an Oldsmobile, there will be several surprises in store for you. You will thrill at the car's splendid performance—its power, its speed, its quick response to the throttle.

But you will probably get your greatest thrill when you step on the accelerator and learn how luxuriously smooth Oldsmobile's performance really is. For, no matter how fast you go, Oldsmobile's engine delivers its power with such quiet ease that you are hardly aware of the speed at which you are traveling.

The reasons for this inherent smoothness are two-fold . . . a sound multi-cylinder design which has been steadily perfected over a period of years . . . and the most painstaking workmanship, to assure that design its just dues in actual production.

Important as Oldsmobile deems those two reasons, they mean almost nothing to you until you see the evidence in performance results. All we ask is that you come in and give this car a trial. When you experience the ease and smoothness with which Oldsmobile does everything you ask of it, you will know why increasing numbers of motorists everywhere are naming Oldsmobile as the automobile of their preference.

★ Your Oldsmobile dealer will gladly place a car at your disposal so that you may test Oldsmobile's smoothness first-hand. In this way you can prove to yourself how much such Oldsmobile features as Syncro-Mesh Transmission, Quiet Second Gear and Down-Draft Carburetion mean to the smooth, quiet delivery of power. Above all, you will feel the inherent smoothness of the Oldsmobile engine throughout the entire speed range. Visit your Oldsmobile dealer today.

Oldsmobile may be purchased on the convenient G.M.A.C. time payment plan. $845, the two-door sedan, spare tire and bumpers extra.

Officials Balked In Shooting Probe At Baltimore, Md.

Hospital Authorities Refuse To Allow Detectives To Visit Kolb's Room

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, Aug. 19—Detectives were further balked today in their effort to learn more details about the mysterious shooting Monday of R. Wallace Kolb, wealthy banking company head, when the hospital refused them admission to Kolb's room. He is suffering from a bullet wound in the thigh.

The only account of the shooting was given by Mrs. Nellie Greene, formerly of Augusta, Ga., and here her friends said, to sue for a divorce from J. Woodall Greene, New York real estate dealer. She was sitting beside Kolb in his limousine when, she said, a man leaped on the running board, ordered both of them outside and shot Kolb.

She insisted it was a "simple hold-up" and the man had "ugly features and looked like a thug.' Investigators said they will ignore Mrs. Greene's suggestion robbery was the motive until they question Kolb. Nothing was stolen, not even Mrs. Greene's purse, left lying on the seat and the expensive automobile they deserted at pistol point.

The bullet extracted from Kolb's body was of .22 caliber.

Pleads Not Guilty To Embezzlement

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 19.—Ford H. Canfield, former county clerk of courts, today appeared before Common Pleas Judge George H. Gessner and pleaded not guilty to a charge of embezzling $9,956 of county funds. He was released on a $2,000 property bond signed by his wife. Canfield and his attorney, Hiram B. Bye, demanded an early trial. Canfield's indictment is based on a report by State Examiner Hugh Hindman, covering the period from January 1, 1924, until April 8, this year, when Canfield resigned.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Stock Market Today Is Fairly Active

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The Oil stocks held the key position in a fairly active market this morning. New advances of a point or less were recorded in twenty of the leading oil shares, in further response to the expected improvement of the industry by the temporary closing of the flush East Texas wells. Already Crude Oil prices have been materially advanced and gasoline prices have stiffened at the principal consuming centers.

Standard Oil of New Jersey's new rise to above 42 carried the stock about 6 points above the low of last week. The new Socony-Vacuum, which Wau introduced to the big board at 18, reached a new high at 20⅞, corresponding to the present price of Standard of New York, into which it is exchangeable, share for share. Fractional gains above the best levels on the movement were recorded for Ohio Oils, Simms, Sinclair, Belding-Hemenway, Tidewater, Shell-Union, Petroleum Corp and Phillips Pete. Texas Corporation rose 1¼ to 28¼.

As a rule the Industrials were unable to follow the lead of the Oils. General Motors was again held back by a liberal outpouring of selling orders, similar to that which forced the stock down to 36⅝ yesterday. United States Steel started the day slightly higher, at 90¼, but dropped back to 89½. American Can, General Electric and other recognized leaders, were almost completely sidetracked and the same was true of the bulk of the Rails. General Motors found plenty of buying support around 36⅞, down ⅛ from the previous close and Chrysler was well bought at 23.

Cotton prices dipped under the previous low levels and new low prices were recorded for all positions October sold at 6.69, the lowest since 1905. Wheat and Corn stiffened on unfavorable weather reports. Money rates were unchanged.

Probe Suicide Of Purser On Steamer

Three Men, One Said To Be Governor Murray's Son, Will Be Questioned

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Three men, one of them the son of governor William H. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray of Oklahoma, according to United States District Attorney Howard W. Ameli, were at a party in the stateroom of Joseph Apud, just before Apud was shot to death aboard the Munson Liner Southern Cross.

Ameli, announced today that he is investigating the death of Apud, who was an assistant purser of the liner. Department of justice operatives have been assigned to the case. Apud, 28 years old, was reported to have committed suicide early Monday morning by ship officials when the liner docked late yesterday.

Police Looking For Missing Girl

MIDLAND, Pa., Aug. 19.—Police of the tri-state district have been asked by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Vorkapich, Ohio avenue, to aid in the search for their daughter, Angeline, 17, missing from her home since August 5. The girl, employed in a local restaurant, was last seen entering an automobile.

Pittsburgh Bride Sentences "Hubby" To Cell In Jail

Wife-Beater Is Taught Lesson, Judge Allows Wife To Pass Sentence On Spouse

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 19—Mrs. Catherine Slansky, 18, a bride of two months, today sentenced her husband Stanley, 20 to pay a fine of $10 or spend 10 days in jail.

Mrs. Slansky appeared in morals court and told Magistrate Thomas D. Jones that Stanley came home late yesterday without his pay and beat her when she admonished him.

The magistrate said:

"I am going to let you be the judge—do what you want with him."

The astonished bride replied:

"That's fine. I'll teach him a lesson—$10 fine or 10 days in jail."

Stanley, minus the $10, took the jail sentence.

"That's final?" queried the magistrate.

"That's positively final,'" affirmed the bride.

Magistrate Jones, complimenting the bride said, "there would be less wife beating and fewer divorces if more young brides showed the same courage."

The world was made in seven days. You see, it wasn't necessary to hold up the job until dumb voters : : the idea.

SUFFERS CRAMPS WHILE SWIMMING

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—Eric Krenz, former Stanford University track star, and former holder of the world's discus throwing record, was dead today, the victim of cramps suffered in the cold waters of Lake Tahoe when he plunged from a rowboat.

Krentz shouted for help but before vacationers on the beach 200 yards away, or a girl in the boat with him, could aid him he sank. His body was found an hour later.

In 1930, when he was captain of the Stanford track team, Krenz tossed the discus 167 feet, 5⅝ inches breaking his own world mark by four inches which he had set the preceding year.

Michigan Youth Takes Long Hike

Youth, 14, Walks And Bums Rides From Muskegon, Mich., To Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 19—A 14 year old boy whose father is in the hospital, and mother and five sisters and brothers are almost destitute, was in Pittsburgh today after a 700 mile "walk-ride" trip from his home in Muskegon, Mich. He left last Saturday.

Robert Litz, the boy hitch-hiker, finding conditions at home in poor state, came here to visit his grandmother, Mrs. Leierzapft, to look for work and, it seems, to become a Pittsburgh resident.

"I've walked all over Michigan and the lakes region trying to find work, but I guess I'm too young. I thought if I came to Pittsburgh, grandmother could help me out. I'm going to look for work here and if I find any I'll stay right here with grandma. When school time comes, I guess I can go here. I like Pittsburgh and I hope I can find work so my mother and brothers and sisters won't be hungry any more."

Speaking of his long trek from Muskegon here, Bob said:

"It was a real experience. I've always wanted to come here, and last year when grandma was visiting us in Michigan I said I would be down this year.

"Dad was hurt in an electrical plant and we have had a hard time."

Bob was to start out today to look for a job.

Youth Detained; Shoots Brother

Pittsburgh Youth Held In Juvenile Court For Shooting Of Older Brother

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 19.—A 14-year-old boy charged with shooting his older brother in the shoulder during an argument in their home, was detained in juvenile court today.

"I didn't mean to shoot him. I only wanted to scare him because he had been picking on me. But I'm sorry now," the lad Sweeny Voinovich told authorities.

His brother, Charles, 19, was in St. John's hospital here where his condition was said to be fair.

The younger brother had used his father's revolver and discharged the weapon in view of his mother.

Field Officer Due For Beach Outing Of Credit Branch

Corn Roast Tomorrow To Draw Members, Families, Friends Of Exchange

Earl Wright, field secretary of the National Retail Credit association, with headquarters in St. Louis, will come here Thursday to make the chief address at a cornroast to be held for the members of the New Castle Credit Exchange, their families and friends, at Castle Beach.

The affair will bring together over 100 members of the local exchange, Manager Ray Hall announced this morning. Events are scheduled to start at 6:30 o'clock.

Mr. Wright is touring the eastern part of the country to visit numerous exchange branches affiliated with the national association. The local exchange is a member of this unit.

The speaker, who has held numerous responsible credit bureau offices during his career, makes his home at Ionia, Mich. His territory includes his home state, Indiana, Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Maryland and Virginia. He has had a varied and interesting career, Mr. Hall said, and his experience has qualified him admirably for his present work.

The speaker will come here from Sharon, having inspected an association branch in that city today.

Mail Route 8 To Extend 35 Miles

Authorized Addition, Due In Month, To Make It Longest Rural Stretch

Postmaster Edwin W. Crawford, in announcing today of the contemplated change in the rural mail route No. 8, originating at the seventh ward branch post office, listed the additional territory which the carrier will serve. The new route will become effective October 1.

In addition to the section served at present, the route 8 carrier will extend his travels as follows:

Southwesterly to Clark's corners; southwest to McCandless residence and retrace; west to Harmon corner (and Small's Ferry road); north to the creamery; east to Poland road; northwest and north to McClelland's corner; east to Powder Works corner; north to Willy's mail box and retrace; south to McGinnis corner (Miller-Bailey); northwest to the J. V. Davis farm and retrace (Malt farm), and then south to Mt. Jackson.

The postmaster traced the additions that patrons living in that section may know what route the carrier will cover.

The old Edenburg route has been divided, Mr. Crawford said, and apportioned to the Enon, New Galilee, New Castle and Pulaski offices.

Once in effect, the new route 8 will constitute the local office's longest rural delivery run. At present its length totals 24.1 miles, but with the additional territory that distance will be increased to 35.6 miles.

Glimpses Of Nature

Shall the Hawk perish from the Earth?

OWEN PENFIELD FOX

Up in the northern wilderness unspoiled by man, where forest trails wind their way through pines and hemlocks that reach way up to kiss the blue of heaven, where woodland streams many years ago buffeted the canoe of the redman, is the ancestral home of the Golden Eagle, the very emblem of courage and freedom. The American Indian gave the eagle great protection, as they held it sacred, because it was the only living thing that got close to God in its aerial flights.

But today the hunter has penetrated into the very heart of the wildernes sand slaughtered this noble bird until it has become almost extinct. And still this destruction goes on reaching into the near clan of the eagle. Hawks and owls classed as birds of prey, are going the same way, because man says they are game destroyers. It is not my idea to exonerate the hawk from this accusation, but as a nature lover I wish to make a plea in behalf of these birds, that we should not destroy for all time the work of a Great Creator and when gone never can be replaced. At one time we had a vast supply of game and bird life, and man alone is responsible for its disappearance.

I have found from research that hawks do take some game, this is natural. But do we give this same hawk the credit that is due him for the amount of rats, ground moles, snakes and locusts he consumes? Surely he should receive some consideration for this work.

For instance the Arctic owl; this is indeed a rare bird. I have had the pleasure of seeing this bird alive but once, this at our local game farm. It was with regret that I heard of its capture. The past winter I read a newspaper article that an Arctic owl had been shot because he swooped down from a winter's sky into a city square and killed two pigeons, where hundreds appeared every day. And to think that this rare bird of the cold Arctic had to forfeit its life for two pigeons, when I have seen man kill them by the dozens without giving it a thought.

The Goose Hawk is listed as a killer of upland game, including grouse, quail and pheasants. This bird's activities should be kept down, but not to the extent that it should perish from the earth. I have known of dozens of the red shouldered hawks who live on field mice, being killed because they belong to the hawk clan.

Who of us do not get a thrill when we look up in the blue of the heavens and see the hawk patroling, cleaving the air on powerful wings, watch him as he circles lazily, then a long drop, cutting the air with his powerful pinions.

We go out and kill a bag full of ducks in a day's shooting and call it sport, but if one little duck falls prey to a hawk there is a great fuss made about it.

Some states have laws that protect the hawks. This protection is based on the knowledge of the good they do. But persons who know nothing of this just go out and kill chiefly to collect the bounty from the state.

I have heard the bird life and game conservation question discussed among many, but discussion alone is not going to bring back wild life. We should teach conservation of wild life among the children. It will have a greater, more lasting effect if engraved in the minds while young. So let us consider the hawk and owl family in our conservation of game and bird life so that they do not perish as some of our wild folks have done. And I assure you if man does his part, nature will take care of her own.

The worst has happened when a bond salesman begins by saying his are different.
